John Joplin's number six, volume four of the Tomato Springs Gazette, is in, for political consideration—mostly. According to John there is an election coming up November 8th, and he has something to say about it, and more to say about candidates, especially the ones he prefers. The item I like best in his paper is that "Bill" Cheney, who had an encounter with the surgeons' knives, is recovering.

"Dick" Robbins says he got his "dictionary" yesterday from the county clerk, but no answers. Say, that twenty-five amendment pamphlet can take the place of fools rush in so far as I am concerned. It is another tower of Babel. You get the affirmative and the rebuttal, and then you don't know how to vote.

The bad news started this morning. H. Lester Grant sent it from Huntington Beach. 'Tax' notice. Returned him a check. If it doesn't bounce, the matter is settled. Grant started something. From now on from a number of sources I am expecting the same information. That there is a small parcel of land here and one there which demands the owner pay for the space it occupies. These tax payments keep a lot of people at work, but I've never been on the side where I had a chance to get my money back.

Claude Rogers told me the "boy"—meaning his son, had put some gas in the tank, climbed into the car, went to the girl friend's house, persuaded her to "git in," and then started for Riverside where the county clerk issued credentials for them to return home as two souls with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one. So I turned the info over to the society department. Her account of the wedding will be different.

Guess I'll go over to the Anaheim Halloween celebration. I'm not afraid of kangaroo courts, justices of the peace, appellant courts, supreme courts or what have you. When you get to a zero position there is not only cold weather but safety. "You can't take it with you" for the reason you haven't anything to take. But there is more to the Anaheim Halloween celebration than a kangaroo court. It supplies such a varied form of entertainment that you can't help but enjoy the event.

Dr. Edward Ward, immediate past president of the American Osteopathic association, says to the jitterbugs that the dance is for athletes and not lounge lizards. He says go ahead and jitter, if you want to, but if you do you'll have thick ankles, broken and maladjusted feet and an exhausted nervous system, and this warning won't stop 'em.

L. A. Investigator Says Deputy Took Out Transcript

G. F. McKelvey, suspended deputy sheriff under arrest with five others for criminal conspiracy in the "Fools Rush In" pamphlet case, was the subject of two hours of testimony today as preliminary hearing opened in Santa Ana justice court.

Frank Cummings, in charge of records in Los Angeles Dist. Atty. Burrell Pitts' office, was the state's first witness, linking McKelvey with a copy of a grand jury transcript taken from Cummings' office, copied by a photostatic process and used in preparation of a second pamphlet ordered and paid for by the same man who ordered printing of "Fools Rush In."

"When he first came to my office," said Cummings on direct examination by Asst. Dist. Atty. Preston Turner, "he said something about a big case breaking down in Orange county and there was somebody's testimony in that transcript he wanted. . . . On Aug. 9 he asked if I'd let him get a certified copy of some of the pages."

"I offered to go with him to the county clerk's office, where they make certified copies, and we started there. I said the transcript would have to be taken all apart and it would be quite a job. . . .

RETURNED NEXT DAY
"He said a photostatic copy would be just as good. . . . and finally he signed a receipt for the transcript and took it out. . . . He promised to have it back by 5 o'clock, but it wasn't brought back until the next morning. . . .

Cummings was carefully cross-examined by McKelvey, acting as his own attorney, and said the transcript "might have been stolen" or taken out by someone else at another time.

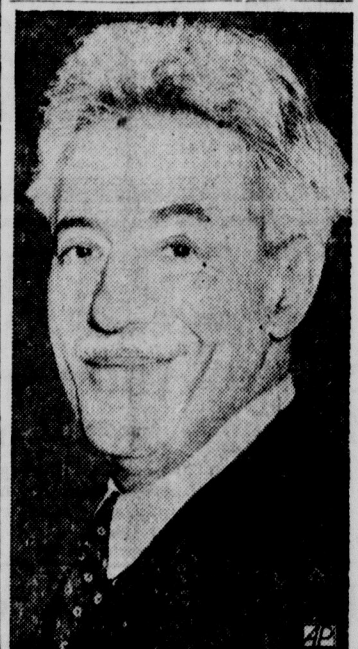

JUSTICE PENN PRESIDES
J. Malcolm Green, young publisher of a political weekly, was in court with a battery of legal talent including three attorneys and one private detective. Charles Ott, arrested with Green and McKelvey Monday night, was also without an attorney. Justice of the Peace Chris Pann of Huntington Beach, presiding in the local court, heard testimony. ## FIRE DEAD 56, MANY MISSING

MARSEILLE. (AP)—The official death list from last night's fire mounted to 56 today and it was feared the toll might reach 100. Besides those known to be dead many were missing, particularly in the Nouvelles Galeries de Paris where the fire started. Firemen said there were "heaps" of bodies at the bottom of a stairway which collapsed.

Troops with fixed bayonets stood guard throughout the night around the smoking ruins to stop looting which started when thieves pillaged guests rooms of three large hotels, ruined by fire and water.

Thousands of firemen from towns as far away as Lyons, 220 miles to the north, battled the flames which swept across wide boulevards under the force of winds of almost gale strength.

2 Nations May Act In China

SHANGHAI. (AP)—American and British chambers of commerce in Shanghai met jointly today to discuss a united front against Japanese efforts to monopolize Chinese trade.

The move came as the Chinese press reported Japanese firms were rapidly establishing sales offices in all conquered cities and towns to handle goods while foreign trade is blocked by the Japanese military.

HOPE FOR ACTION
A statement issued by the Shanghai American association in conjunction with the Shanghai American chamber of commerce said that unless such a reply was forthcoming soon they hoped the United States would "promptly bring pressure on Japan to insure cessation of Japanese discrimination against American trade and cultural efforts in China."

"Failure now to secure correction of Japanese abuses of long-established treaty rights in China," the statement said, "is likely to encourage the Japanese to further monopolistic encroachments and eventually bring conflict with the United States."

U. S. GIRL KILLED
WASHINGTON. (AP)—The state department sought additional details today about the reported bombing of a flag marked mission in China which killed a three-year-old American girl and wounded her mother and eight-year-old sister.

A dispatch from Ambassador Johnson at Chungking, China, did not report the nature of the bombing, but press dispatches from Hankow said Japanese planes were reported to have destroyed the mission. Pending receipt of further information, there was no comment from the state department.

Phoebe Nyhus, daughter of Arthur E. Nyhus, Lutheran Brethren missionary at Tunghpoh, was the girl who was reported killed. A consular dispatch from Hankow said Nyhus and his wife were natives of Fertile, Iowa.

'Tens of Thousands' of Jews Deported by Nazis, Poles Claim

BERLIN. (AP)—"Tens of Thousands" of Polish Jews were asserted by a Polish embassy spokesman tonight to have been deported from Germany in a nationwide drive.

German secret police continued their round-up of Polish Jews for deportation as Polish diplomats worked here and in Warsaw for an agreement to end the stream of "undesirables" headed for the Polish border.

Berlin newspapers estimated the total number of Jews affected by the deportation drive at "several thousands."

The Jewish relief committee in Poland, however, said telephoned reports from the border indicated 12,000 Jews had crossed into Poland from Germany by 9:30 a. m. E. S. T.

Polish police estimated that 1100 Jews, rounded up in swift night raids, had already been shipped to Poland through Schneidemuhl. An unrevealed number was kept at Neu-Bentschen, another border town, by secret police. Additional thousands were ready to be evicted if Polish-German negotiations should fail.

Poland has ordered that nationals living abroad must have their passports certified by consular offices or lose their right to re-enter Poland. Polish Jews believed the law, effective tomorrow, might be an attempt to deprive Polish Jews abroad of their passports. Informed quarters said Germany feared many Poles would become public charges if refused revalidation stamps.

The government estimated that 150,000 Poles live in Germany, of whom only a fraction are Jews. "Energetic Polish intervention" against the deportations was announced by Poland. Warsaw reported negotiations were under way to stop the deportations from Germany and to allow those already expelled to take their property with them. The Nazi drive was called a "misunderstanding" in authoritative Warsaw circles.

MAJOR OIL COMPANY REPORTED PREPARING TO DRILL NEAR S. A.

Keen interest was awakened today by a report that a major oil company plans to begin drilling for oil along the Santa Ana river west of here.

The report, unconfirmed, said a subsidiary of the General Petroleum company has leased 10 acres at First and Harbor streets for the purpose of oil drilling. The property belongs to James McCalla of Tustin, who admitted his property had been leased. It was learned that the 10 acres were leased to Charles H. Forward, San Diego attorney.

NAZIS DEMAND ALL COLONIES

LADEBURG, Germany. (AP)—Germany demands the return of all her colonies, without exception, taken from her by the Versailles treaty. Gen. Franz Ritter Von Epp, governor of Bavaria and Adolf Hitler's deputy for colonial matters, declared today.

He spoke at the opening of the Reich's colonial school. Future relations with other great European powers, Von Epp indicated, depended on their willingness to disgorge the property which Germany regards as stolen.

"Our aim is to all our former colonies," he said. "Whether, when the actual moment for bargaining for them comes, we shall show restraint is for the future to decide. If we do, then we shall demand compensation for whatever we do not claim."

Miss Etting also said she and Alderman never had lived together as man and wife.

After the shooting, both she and Alderman said they were married secretly at Tijuana, Mexico, last July. She and Snyder were divorced in Chicago last fall.

Miss Etting gave her deposition in connection with the $150,000 alienation of affections suit recently filed against her by Alderman's former wife, Mrs. Alma Alderman.

Rails Lose Fight For Wage Slash

Peace Move Up To F.D.R.

MARSEILLE, France. (AP)—Premier Eduard Daladier's Radical Socialist party today called for a world economic conference "in accordance with the wishes of President Roosevelt."

The party congress, in a resolution on foreign policy, declared that on such a conference depended better relations between Great Britain and France on one hand and Germany and Italy on the other.

U. S. AID ASKED
(President Roosevelt, in a telegram to the international chamber of commerce council session at Paris, Oct. 21, said that "improvement of the basis of natural and profitable economic relations between countries" was essential to "the establishment of any satisfactory and secure world order."

The message did not specifically mention a world economic conference. The resolution which declared that such a conference should examine the means of remedying the world's economic disorder, was adopted after Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet and Eduard Herriot, president of the chamber of deputies, asked the United States to participate in the work of peace.

ASKS 'NEW AUDIENCE'
The chamber president, who discussed the war debt situation at the White House in April, 1933, asked that President Roosevelt "accord me a new audience and admit that peace demands more than international conferences—it demands a permanent organization."

Delegates interpreted his use of the word "audience" in a figurative sense and as meaning he hoped his words would reach the President.

LEAGUE 'SUNK'
Although Herriot long had been one of the stoutest champions of the League of Nations, he declared that that international organization, with its "pacts, covenants and private treaties, is sunk beneath the waves and we are watching the shipwreck of international morale."

He deplored the "collapse" of the nine power pact to safeguard China's territorial integrity, to which the United States is a signatory.

"The United States cannot long remain disinterested in a divided Europe," Herriot said. "Recent events prove it."

Horizontal Reduction Would Not Solve Problem, Ruling

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The emergency railroad investigating board recommended today that the nation's railroads withdraw their demand for a 15 per cent reduction in rail wages.

In a report to President Roosevelt, the board said that the carriers should "withdraw and cancel" notices they had sent out that the reduction would be made.

The board, appointed by President Roosevelt in September to investigate the rail wage dispute, said that wages of railway labor "are not high even as compared with wages in other comparable industries."

In a summary of its lengthy opinion on the wage situation, the board added:

"A wage reduction in the railroad industry would run counter to the trend of wage rates in industry generally."

The wage dispute arose when carriers served notice they would impose a 15 per cent wage cut. Railroad labor brotherhoods voted to strike rather than accept it. UP TO F. D. R. NOW

Mr. Roosevelt, acting under provisions of the railway labor act, appointed the three-man fact-finding board, composed of Chief Justice Walter P. Stacy, of the North Carolina supreme court, Professor Harry A. Mills of the University of Chicago, and Dean James M. Landis of the Harvard University Law school.

Stacy asserted he did not know what action Mr. Roosevelt would take on the report, but that the Chief Executive's problem now "is to avert a strike."

Stephen Early, White House secretary, told reporters the President had no comment on the report, but that he would confer Monday with leaders of railroad management and labor.

IMPROVEMENT SEEN
In its summary opinion, the board said that "a horizontal reduction of wages on a national scale would not solve the financial emergency of the industry, since the savings would not be distributed merely to the needy roads."

The report added:

"The financial distress of the carriers which has obtained since October, 1937, when the last wage increases were granted, is as yet a short term situation."

"As such, it cannot be regarded as grounds for a wage reduction, especially in view of present indications of an improvement in the business of the carriers."

1,000,000 AFFECTED
Explaining the report, Stacy told reporters that while some railroad wages were substantial in amount, others were low.

This situation, he said, keeps the wages of rail labor from being high in comparison with other industries.

Stacy said that any savings from a horizontal cut in wages would be shared by strong railroad along with weak ones.

No plan was offered, he added, to pool the savings from a wage reduction and use them for the benefit of weaker roads.

The proposed 15 per cent wage reduction would affect about 1,000,000 workers on all the nation's major railroads. It would cut $250,000,000 annually off the gross railroad payroll.

DIES TO READ F.D.R. LETTERS ON RED PROBE

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Chairman Dies (D., Texas) of the house committee investigating un-American activities, announced today he would make public letters of President Roosevelt and other administration officials in an effort to show that "they have refused to cooperate" in his investigation of Communism and Fascism.

The Texan said he would make the disclosures in a radio broadcast Monday night at 10:45 o'clock over the Mutual system. He expected to reply especially to criticism by President Roosevelt of the house committee's handling of charges against Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan.

At the same time, Dies said he had received a telegram from Rep. Dempsey (D., N. M.) threatening to resign from the committee if witnesses were allowed to tear down the "characters of men who are outstanding."

Dempsey and Representative Healy (D., Mass.) both have asked the committee to cease hearings until after the general election.

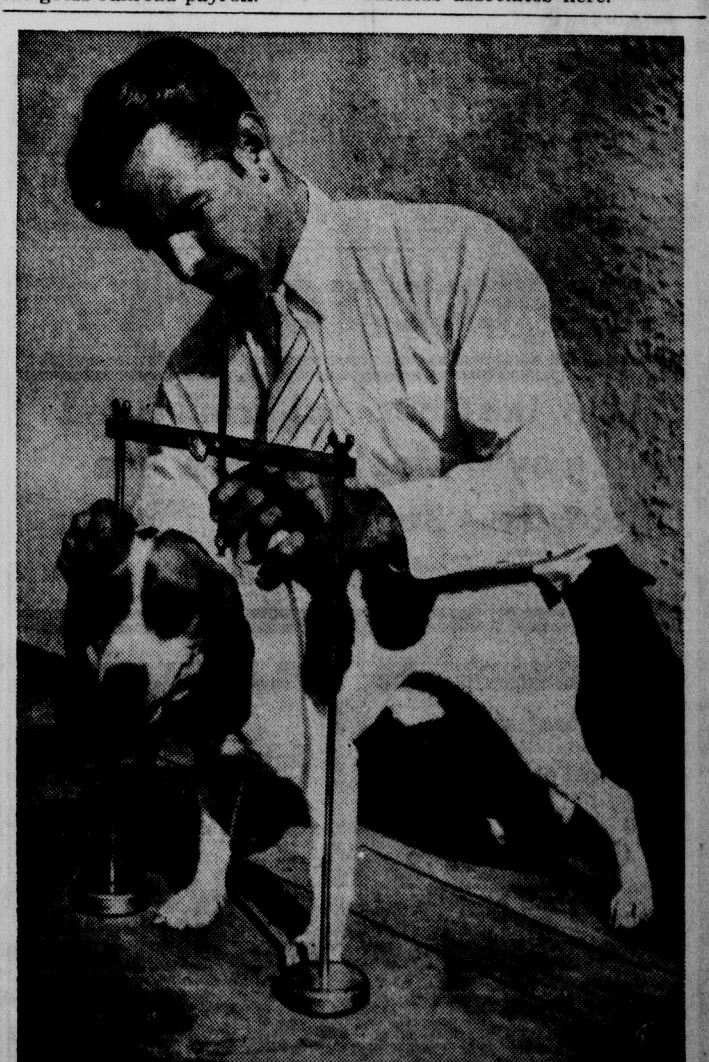

"Mr. Dempsey has not been present and has not heard the testimony," Chairman Dies replied curtly. "He should read the evidence before giving out statements."

U. S. Proves Illegal Shipment of 40 Planes to Spanish Loyalists

FORGED PAPER BELIEVED KEY TO MYSTERY

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Federal agents and the Canadian government are investigating the illegal shipping of about 40 American airplanes to loyalist Spain.

The state department disclosed last night that the shipments had been made despite the neutrality law which forbids sending war materials to Spain. It said this was accomplished by use of what it now appeared were forged documents.

The aircraft were among 50 Grumman planes which were ordered from a Canadian company by a Paris agent of the Spanish government, the department said, explaining that the agent presented with the order documents to show Turkey was the destination of the shipments.

Export licenses for the planes were revoked when the department learned their true destination was Spain, but most of the order had already been sent. The planes were sent from the United States to Canada in assembled and unassembled form.

Canadian law requires a license to ship certain war materials and equipment from Canada.

The state department also disclosed that attempts had been made to obtain export licenses for 22 Bellanca planes on the representation that they were destined for Greece, but that licenses had not been issued because the Greek government informed the department the ships were not intended for use there.

A shipment of military airplanes, purportedly to Turkey, was made from Canada about six months ago, it was reported in Ottawa last night.

The department said it first issued export licenses to ship the Grumman airplane, engines and parts to Canada for assembly on assurance that the planes would remain in that country.

Then the department was informed that the parts were merely passing through Canada. At that point the Turkish government told this government it had not purchased the planes and that they had not arrived in Turkey.

The Turkish government declared the Spanish agent's documents to be "forgeries," the state department said.

Unions Start Test Of New Picketing Ordinance In L. A.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Having started a test of the new city picketing ordinance in municipal court, A. F. of L. union attorneys, Jack B. Tenney, Carey McWilliams and A. L. Wirin, said today they would carry the case to the supreme court, if necessary.

Six union men admitted to Municipal Judge Harold E. Landreth yesterday that they had picketed a cafe and a construction job, while the lawyers argued the ordinance under which they were arrested and which allows one picket in front of any business establishment, is unconstitutional. They claimed it violates the rights of free speech and of labor to express a protest.

BANDITS HOLD MAN PRISONER

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A story of being kidnaped, gagged and bound, threatened with guns and black-jacks and driven for five hours last night through Los Angeles and San Bernardino valley communities was told police today by Hugh Spriggs, 35, office manager of a soda fountain supply firm.

Spriggs said two men forced their way into his car at an intersection about 7 p. m., drove him to a freight yard, bound him and threw him into a box car. There he remained for more than a half hour before they returned, placed him in the car and, picking up three other men, began a long drive.

He told of frequent stops, said once the men disassembled his laundry office but decided not to, then talked of obtaining $5 in a liquor store hold up. Passersby found him beside a highway after midnight, still bound. He said the men had thrown him from the car.

Men Blamed For Most Accidents

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Alice Claire Hoffman, president of the Business and Professional Women of Los Angeles, comes out with statistics to show men were to blame in 92 per cent of the nation's fatal automobile accidents of 1937, while women were at fault in only 5.6.

In California, she said, men have been responsible for 85 per cent of all motor vehicle accidents, women only 12. The men may get the last word, however. She did not show what per cent of all drivers were women. In 3 per cent of the cases, she said, sex of the driver was not listed.

Turks Honor Their Ailing President

ANKARA, Turkey. (AP)—Turkey paid tribute to its ailing President Kamal Ataturk today on the 15th anniversary of the founding of his regime.

The three-day celebration was planned originally to commemorate Turkey's political westernization but it turned out to be a national tribute to Ataturk who is confined to his bed with a liver complaint.

Court Orders Whittier Man To Pay Funeral Expenses of Victim of Traffic Mishap

Charles Brown, Whittier car dealer convicted here last summer by a superior court jury of negligent homicide and felony hit-run driving, must pay $554.69 as expenses of burial of James W. Goss, 50, the victim.

Superior Judge H. G. Ames so ruled yesterday afternoon, after Brown had been presented with a bill for $1311.03 for medical and funeral expenses, which Brown was ordered to pay under terms of a probation order.

Judge Ames ruled, however, that Brown should not be required to pay the total cost of a casket or a funeral service, and should not be billed for flowers at Mrs. Goss' funeral.

Pamphlet Case

denied a motion for dismissal and performed three marriage ceremonies during the morning.

DETROIT. (AP)—"ham and eggs" pension candidate for attorney-general, was associated with W. Maxwell Burke of Santa Ana and Charles A. McGinnis of Los Angeles as counsel for Green. Sitting with Green in the jury box was Martin Quinn, Los Angeles private detective hired by the young publisher.

Witnesses were excluded and herded into the jury room with an admonition not to talk about the case, on request of McKelvey as the hearing opened.

Witnesses and spectators crowded the little courtroom before 10 a. m., when the hearing was scheduled to begin.

MANY CALLED
Appearing with subpoenas were every member of the county grand jury, which investigated the case; A. B. Berry, editor of the tabloid Independent; George Holden, candidate for district attorney; San Diego, Leo Fries, H. H. Kohlmeier, Lieut. M. D. Williams of the Los Angeles police department and many others.

Witnesses and spectators crowded the little courtroom before 10 a. m., when the hearing was scheduled to begin.

DEMANDS WITNESSES
McKelvey asked that the court demand presence of all witnesses when the hearing resumes at 10 a. m. Monday, and suggested contempt proceedings against witnesses who did not answer when their names were called, including Police Chief Floyd Howard of Santa Ana, Detective Lieut. Charles Williams, Attorney O. A. Jacobs and Henry Foust, slot-machine distributor.

"There won't be any contempt," said Judge Pann, "but the witnesses will be directed to appear."

POLITICS MOVED
McKelvey, in moving for dismissal of charges as to Green, vociferously denounced the district attorney's office for having his client arrested.

"The sole purpose of this charge," proclaimed McKelvey, "is to give the district attorney a chance to keep this case alive until the election."

The facts and we can only call one witness at a time."

McKelvey stated to the court that he had called grand jurors for the purpose of possible impeachment of witnesses who had testified before the grand jury.

The transcript McKelvey withdrew from the Los Angeles office—testimony before the grand jury in the Channing Follette conspiracy case in 1923, in which Edgar Hervey, San Diego attorney who is suing Sheriff Logan Jackson for fees, was a witness—and the receipt McKelvey gave for it were marked for identification on Turner's request.

MEMORY TEST
Cross-examined by McKelvey, Cummings admitted he could not fix the exact dates on which the deputy sheriff visited his office to look at the Follette transcript, but said he first appeared there between a month and two months before the transcript was taken out. McKelvey carefully tested Cummings' memory.

WIFE FIGHTER LANDS IN JAIL IN THEFT CASE

Ygnacio Medrano, 28-year-old La Habra laborer, decided today it doesn't pay to fight with his wife.

Because he did he was in the county jail today on charges of stealing several fumigating tents, a sweater from a La Habra store and several sacks of walnuts.

Deputy sheriffs Fred Swayze and Ezra Stanley, patrolling near Yorba Linda last night, were called to Corona camp by a report of a disturbance. There they reported they found Medrano intoxicated and quarreling with his wife.

In the camp house they found a quantity of walnuts and part of a fumigating tent. On questioning they said Medrano admitted stealing the tent, the walnuts and a sweater from the Herrick clothing store, La Habra. He was booked in the county jail on a theft charge.

L. A. FIRM LOW BIDDER; COUNTY AWARDS JOB

Rebuilding of Santa Ana river levees, crumbled under the March 3 flood, will begin within 10 days. County supervisors yesterday let contracts for construction on nearly 20 miles of river levees, and for flood protection work along San Juan and Hickey creeks. Successful bidders have 10 days to sign the contracts, which were approved by State Engineer Edward Hyatt on behalf of the state government, which is donating $200,000 from the emergency flood relief fund for reconstruction of the levees and other work.
Basch Brothers of Los Angeles was low bidder on the levee job with a figure of $146,390.39; and the same firm won a contract for work on San Juan creek at a price of $6425.16. The winner was low among four bidders on the larger project and low among three bidders on the San Juan job.
J. P. McCune of Santa Ana won the contract for work along Hickey creek, with a bid of $935.
Supervisors also let a contract for purchase of used cable, to be used in backing up the levees. T. F. Morgan of Anaheim was low bidder on that item, with a figure of $5071.40.
Bids for used railroad rails, also used for reinforcing the levees, were discarded and must be re-advertised. They will be opened Nov. 4 at noon.

GUILTY PLEA MADE IN 1927 MURDER CASE

Nicholas Bezella, 37-year-old transient returned here from New York to face a murder charge 11 years old, pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon and will know his fate Nov. 10.
The plea came following testimony in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court by Dr. Harry E. Zaiser, county hospital superintendent, that the suspect is not insane. Judge Allen had ordered the examination last week.
On Nov. 10 Bezella will know whether he must die in California's new lethal gas chamber or go to the penitentiary for life.
In his plea of guilty, the stocky little Polish junk collector admitted he killed Clayton Sharritz, 56, in their Santa Ana river bank camp near the county hospital in 1927 after trailing him several years. Sharritz, he claims, robbed him several years before the 1927 murder.
The suspect, hunted by sheriff's officers for a decade, was arrested in New York last month on a vagrancy charge. His fingerprints sent to Washington, identified him.

Six defendants accused of moral offenses appeared in superior court yesterday with four of them pleading not guilty and having their cases set for trial.
Pedro Garcia will face a jury in Superior Judge G. K. Svoel's court Dec. 1 on charges he committed a morals crime against a 14-year-old girl in Hillcrest park, Fullerton, Oct. 5.
Manuel Riva and Henry Canales, returned here from Santa Paula to face charges of contributing to the delinquency of a 16-year-old Santa Ana girl, will be tried by a jury in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court Dec. 5. The offense with which they are charged is alleged to have been committed Sept. 15.
James W. Rea, accused of a statutory crime against a 14-year-old girl Sept. 1, will be tried by a jury in Judge Ames' court Nov. 23. He withdrew his former plea of guilty to enter a not guilty plea yesterday before Superior Judge James L. Allen.
David W. Mann, convicted of a sex crime involving a young negro transient, heard Judge Ames continue his probation hearing for one week.
Bacilio Villaseñor, 44, Stanton laborer, accused of having improper relations with his 17-year-old stepdaughter, will enter a plea next Friday to the charge in Judge Allen's court.

DON'T WAIT UNTIL THIS Emergency ARISES

Anyone who has had to make funeral arrangements for a friend or neighbor knows how confused one may be when confronted with the many details involving a service. Left entirely until emergency arises, necessary decisions must be made at a time when the mind is least able to consider wisely.

These emergencies occur every day. Yet it takes only a few minutes to consult BROWN & WAGNER'S advisory department . . . to prepare against such exigencies by knowing the full facts of funeral costs and procedure in advance of need. An appointment may be made, without obligation, by calling 1221.

I Just Found Out About Orange County

By BOB SWANSON

Killer

For persons between the ages of 15 and 35, tuberculosis today remains the primary cause of death, despite the remarkable progress that has been made in the control of tuberculosis during the last generation.

In Orange county last year, 40 young people of that age range died of tuberculosis, 25 of that number being young women. Next most dangerous killer for this age group was the automobile, with 39 deaths to its credit. (Only 3 of these were women).

Most everyone was impressed by the traffic toll, but fewer persons have been excited by the even greater death toll caused by tuberculosis.

Here are some more illuminating figures: For all age groups, tuberculosis killed 71 persons in Orange county during 1937, as compared to 83 the previous year. The death rate in Orange county was 55.46 in 1937—the lowest on record.

County Health Officer K. H. Sutherland points out "our tuberculosis control program is being fruitless but there is yet much to be done. The tuberculosis examination clinics held weekly by the Orange County Tuberculosis association, the monthly clinics held by the county hospital and the school examination clinics held by the health department all are bringing results, but the general population must be brought to realize that in order to discover early tuberculosis, a chest examination, including X-ray, must be made a part of the yearly health program in any family."

Last year the health department gave 1530 tuberculosis skin tests, took 602 chest X-rays and made 697 chest examinations. The Orange county hospital examined 1209 in its tuberculosis clinic and the Orange County Tuberculosis association, 304.

All of this, plus other recorded examinations for tuberculosis from physicians offices, et cetera, gives a total of 3042 recorded examinations in the county for that year.

Of the 697 persons examined by the health department, 542 were negative cases—were free of tuberculosis. There were 11 active cases; 106 cases in which there had been infections, but which had healed during childhood; 38 "suspects," cases to be re-checked.

Health department's clinics are conducted chiefly in the schools of the county. First step in the examination is the tuberculin test; next comes the X-ray examination, then the chest examination by a specialist.

The tuberculin test is made by placing a drop of a colorless solution containing tuberculin within the upper surface layer of the skin either by a needle or by an injection. If the spot becomes red and slightly swollen within two or three days it means that tuberculosis germs are somewhere in the body, or have at some time invaded the body.

Dr. Sutherland points out the tuberculin test discovers infection—that the germs are or have some time been in the body—but does not mean that the disease has developed. However, all who react to the tuberculin test should have repeated physical and X-ray examinations to discover whether or not there has been infection and development of the disease.

Positive reactors are then X-rayed, the films developed and read a few days after. After the X-ray, a chest specialist is called to make a chest examination of the positive cases and his findings are "quite conclusive" as to whether the disease has developed.

Next step is the isolating of the active cases. These cases must be isolated where they can receive adequate medical treatment and where they will not endanger others. Most cases are isolated at the tuberculosis pavilion at the county hospital.

Tuberculosis victims in some instances may be isolated at home, but few homes can meet the strict regulations established by the state department of public health.

Isolation of victims does not complete the work of the health department. Others who have been exposed, as shown by the positive reaction to the tuberculin test, but who may not have the disease, must be re-checked.

Besides these, cases in which tuberculosis has healed in childhood must be re-checked periodically over a number of years.

To encourage such persons to go to the clinics for periodic examinations, a large number of home calls are necessary during the year. In 1937, there were 2241 home calls by the public health nurses.

Principal aim of these calls is to encourage taking of examinations for tuberculosis at the clinics.

"They're not nearly so worried whether or not they have tuberculosis as we are," says Dr. Sutherland.

Newport Votes on $325,000 Master Plan Bond Issue Monday

SIX PROJECTS ARE UNITED IN ONE ELECTION

NEWPORT BEACH.—Fate of a proposed $325,000 city-wide improvement project will be decided here Monday with the holding of a $325,000 bond election. Voters will go to the polls between 6 a. m. and 8 p. m.

The $325,000 represents the city's share of the long-range projects. Applications have been made for a PWA grant of $252,272 to complete the "master plan," which consists of six separate projects. The plan calls for the following:

1. Construction of a new city hall and police station at an estimated cost of $120,000, of which the city's share would be $66,000. This building would be erected in a proposed community center located on a four and a-half acre tract on the easterly side of Central avenue and northerly of 32nd street in Newport.

2. Construction of additions to the municipal water system at an estimated cost of $141,819, of which the city's share would be $78,000. This involves the construction of a new force main from the existing water wells to the main reservoir on the mesa at 8th street and Monrovia street. The project also provides for the improvement of fire protection on Balboa Island.

3. Construction and reconstruction of sanitary sewers at an estimated cost of $127,273, of which the city's share would be $70,000. The project calls for the construction of a new vitrified clay pipe sewer main along Central avenue between Alvarado street and the pumping station located at Central avenue and Via Lido.

4. Reconstruction of the public wharf at Newport at an estimated cost of $30,000, of which the city's share would be $17,000. The improvement has been proposed to place the pier and boat landing in safe condition. It calls for the replacing of approximately 100 piles, the replacing of certain timbers in the superstructure, and the redecking of the entire pier.

5. Balboa ocean front improvements at an estimated cost of $120,000, of which the city's share would be $73,000. The project calls for a new public street, an automobile parking area, playground, two comfort stations, landscaping and ornamental street lighting.

6. Corona Del Mar recreational center at an estimated cost of $38,180, of which the city's share would be $21,000. Preliminary plans call for the construction of a community hall 34 feet by 85 feet, two tennis courts, two badminton courts, croquet grounds and other recreational facilities. The plan also provides for landscaping, construction of walkways and ornamental street lights.

Sheriff Logan Jackson's recent raid attack on Lucas, a Mexican, resulted in a "guilty" verdict. R. E. Erbe, Costa Mesa, was the defendant, charged with misdemeanor drunk driving. The jury deliberated for one hour and five minutes before returning a verdict. Judge Dwight Hayden fined Erbe $150 and revoked his driver's license.

Serving on the first Tustin jury were Lee Bird, Mrs. G. H. Spicer, O. A. Leih, Mrs. Evelyn Korff, Mrs. Myrtle Brooks, Frank Gilbert, Mrs. E. K. Crawford, Mrs. Agnes Bacon, Mrs. Muriel Dawson, P. H. Ebel, Mrs. Carolyn Campbell and Mrs. F. W. Weston.

Burke said Jackson knew that "Lucio has been a good friend of the sheriff's office," and said Jackson thanked Lucio for his services during the 1936 citrus strike.

"Mr. Jackson knows," said Burke, "that the 118 Mexicans he arrested during the strike were immediately freed because they were illegally arrested by him. Does he believe that by violating his own oath of office he thereby broke the strike?"

"I thank God we have a habeas corpus writ in this county. . . If the sheriff can knowingly arrest an innocent man he can arrest another—when will your turn come?"

Burke said his talk was not to be considered a political one, but was made "for the purpose of clearing the good name of Lucas Lucio in this community."

GERMANS BEHEAD SPY

BERLIN, (AP)—Hugo Zappe, 34, of Dresden, was beheaded today for treason. He was convicted Aug. 12 upon testimony that he posed as a Sudeten refugee and thereby got important German secrets which he conveyed to the Czechs.

Alcatraz Convict, Ordered On Trial Monday as Slayer, Made Speechless by Fear

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—An Alcatraz felon, James C. Lucas, reportedly speechless from fear, was ordered on trial Monday for the murder of a prison guard in a vain escape attempt.

Lucas, 26, Texas robber, appeared in federal court yesterday when Dr. Joseph Catton, San Francisco psychiatrist, made an official report on Lucas' mental condition. Doctor Catton said Lucas was "scared speechless but is not insane."

Lawyers appointed by the court to represent Lucas and Rufus Franklin, 24, a co-defendant, had sought a postponement on the ground that Lucas was insane. The attorneys said they could not prepare their case because Lucas would not speak to them.

Santa Ana Float Captures Theme Prize at Anaheim's Annual Hallowe'en Parade

ANAHEIM.—Depicting the spirit of Hallowe'en, a float entered by the city of Santa Ana won the theme prize in the Fifteenth Annual Hallowe'en parade staged here last night before an estimated 50,000 persons.

Santa Ana's float was entered by the city of Santa Ana in cooperation with the local chamber of commerce. It was prepared by a committee headed by E. B. Sharpley. The float was designed by Paul Reynolds and constructed by the fire department.

Sweepstakes prize in the parade went to the Western Auto and Supply company, which also won that prize last year. The mechanical float depicted the fable of Cinderella. Second place went to Knights of Pythias float, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Snow White was Miss Geraldine Hopkins of Anaheim.

Van de Camp's Bakery of Southern California won third place

C. M. MAN IS FOUND GUILTY

TUSTIN.—First jury trial ever conducted in the police court here resulted in a "guilty" verdict. R. E. Erbe, Costa Mesa, was the defendant, charged with misdemeanor drunk driving. The jury deliberated for one hour and five minutes before returning a verdict. Judge Dwight Hayden fined Erbe $150 and revoked his driver's license.

Serving on the first Tustin jury were Lee Bird, Mrs. G. H. Spicer, O. A. Leih, Mrs. Evelyn Korff, Mrs. Myrtle Brooks, Frank Gilbert, Mrs. E. K. Crawford, Mrs. Agnes Bacon, Mrs. Muriel Dawson, P. H. Ebel, Mrs. Carolyn Campbell and Mrs. F. W. Weston.

THEFT OF CAR LEADS TO SUIT

Suit for $315.18 damages to a stolen car was on trial today in superior court against Morris Factor, who assertedly confessed the theft.

Plaintiff was the Home Insurance company, which had written a policy on the car owned by Elmer Edlund of Newport Beach. The auto, the complaint alleges, was stolen from Edlund's home Jan. 26, 1937, and recovered the next day in Oceanside.

Factor, the complaint says, admitted stealing the auto and paid $100 to the insurance company, which now demands $315.18 more assertedly paid Edlund for damage to the car.

While Lucas, perspiring and mute, sat in court with bowed head, Doctor Catton said: "He is in the condition of a woman with hysteria."

"His condition has been and is in line with flight from justice, escape from an intolerant situation and indicative of consciousness of guilt. He has the mental capacity to know that if he shows signs of being insane he will not be executed."

The court, fixing Monday for trial, commented that it thought Lucas "sane enough to go to trial."

Lucas, Franklin and Thomas Limerick killed a guard, Royal C. Cline, in an attempted break last May 23. Another guard shot Limerick to death. Franklin was wounded. Lucas hid from the rain of shots and surrendered.

Mrs. Kate Moog Busch, government witness in the trial of three persons on charges of attempting to steal U. S. military secrets, is shown as she arrived in court in New York. She told of being approached by Germans who wanted her to help spread Nazi doctrine in the United States.

NEGOTIATIONS FOR COLLEGE ARE CONTINUED

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO.—Citizens of San Juan Capistrano and officials of Chapman college of Los Angeles are scheduled to continue negotiations here on a proposal to move the church college to a site in this village.

It was reported trustees and other officials of the long-established Los Angeles institution have agreed to confer with citizens of Capistrano at an early date on the proposed removal of the college from its present site at 766 North Vermont avenue.

No further steps have been taken since Floyd Mercer, controller of the school, admitted several weeks ago that he had discussed the possible location of the college at Capistrano with a group here. Citizens of Capistrano seem to be completely in favor of the proposed move, and it was indicated that they would probably be willing to purchase a site provided the college erect a complete plant here.

Officials of the college have indicated fairly definitely, it was reported, that a $700,000 plant would be erected here if a site were provided. Included in preliminary plans for the new campus are a classroom building, science building, music hall, administration building, gymnasium, dormitories and smaller structures.

UNIFICATION OF TWO CHURCHES STEP NEARER

NEW YORK, (AP)—Prospects for the eventual union of the Protestant Episcopal and Presbyterian churches in the United States assumed a brighter hue today as the result of the adoption of a platform for the merger by commissions representing the two denominations.

As another step in the merger official efforts in a half century at organic unity, the commissions adopted a platform which with a few minor changes is the same as that approved by the church of Scotland (Presbyterian) and the church of England (Episcopalian) in unification conferences from 1932 to 1934.

The commissions, which concluded a two-day session yesterday, also approved a concordat, supplementing the general platform, as an instrument for unification of specific Episcopal and Presbyterian congregations. It struck a hopeful note in asserting that "the primary difficulty lies in the differing views of the ministry. But there is large agreement."

The platform and concordat will be considered by the Presbyterian general assembly in Cleveland in May and by the triennial convention of the Episcopal church in Kansas City in 1940. A church with 3,100,000 members and 5,800,000 adherents would be created by the merger, members of the commission said.

Efforts to unite the two churches in 1886-87 ended in failure and agitation just prior to the World war never progressed beyond a preliminary stage. The commissions were created by the governing bodies of the two churches during the past year.

The platform sets forth the common beliefs and the things that might be undertaken in common, including mutual admission to pulpits as occasion serves and adoption of measures by which communicants of either church would be welcomed to communion in the other church.

In outlining the common beliefs of the two denominations, the concordat said in part: "Both churches believe the ministry is part of God's will for his church. Both believe that in ordination the church is acting for God and that it is he who ordains. Both believe that the succession of the ministry is a continuing visible sign of the continuous life of the church."

Santa Anita Preparing for Biggest Meeting; $350,000 In Improvements Ordered

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Safest bet at Santa Anita race track: the 1938-39 meeting will be bigger and better than ever.

Virtually every big stable in the nation will be represented, and almost every top-flight stake horse will be at Santa Anita. The purse money of around $1,000,000 (ratio purse less than $1500) is the richest ever offered horsemen in the annals of the turf.

The $100,000 Santa Anita handicap is still the highest single pot of cash hung up in the country, and the $50,000 derby and the $25,000 San Juan Capistrano handicap, which used to be a mere $10,000, are not to be sneezed at.

And this year there just isn't any estimating the number of flowers blooming in the infield. It used to be that the track could announce the planting of 1,200,000 callulias, 800,000 candytufts, 800,000 pansies and the like, but not any more. The petunias alone have worn out an adding machine and what used to be a dazzling riot of color has blossomed into a revolution.

For a place pecking with success, however, Santa Anita maintains a strict policy of guarded silence at this stage of the year. The publicity tom-toms are kept quiet by official order, and it is only by actual persuasion that the track will divulge the near completion of a $350,000 improvement program, the arrival of horses in the barns and the fact that the season opens in little better than two months.

The reason, believe it or not, for this reticence, is that the management does not want horse racing to interfere with "seasonal sports," meaning football.

The track opens its 52-day season on Dec. 31, and racing is resumed the following Monday, Jan. 2, the date of the annual Rose bowl football game. Asked if the racing wasn't in conflict with the grid classic, both the Rose bowl people in nearby Pasadena and the track said no.

There are enough customers for both attractions, they explained, and often too many for the bowl to accommodate.

Fullerton Driver Who Killed Woman, 83, in Wheelchair, Then Fled, Given Two Years

Milton E. Wees, 47-year-old Fullerton electrician whose car struck and killed an 83-year-old woman crossing the street in a wheelchair, today had escaped a penitentiary sentence but was beginning a two-year county jail term.

Superior Judge James L. Allen yesterday afternoon granted Wees probation on dual counts of negligent homicide and felony hit-run driving, imposing the maximum county jail sentence on each, with the jail terms—one year apiece—to run consecutively.

Wees claimed he has suffered from lapses of memory, and testified he remembered nothing before or after the accident, which occurred in Fullerton Aug. 14. His former wife also took the stand to testify Wees sometimes had lapses of memory.

Victim of the crash was Mrs. Martha Hubbard, whose young nephew was pushing her across the street when a speeding car struck her. Bits of the chair were scattered along the street for half a mile; and Wees was arrested by Fullerton police the next day after officers detected a broken headlight on his car.

Wees will be on probation for eight years and must not drive a car during that period, Judge Allen ruled.

LAGUNA BEACH.—The Rev. Raymond Brahams has invited leading citizens of the Artist colony to speak at Sunday evening civic services on art and religion at the Community Presbyterian church.

Frank W. Cuprien, dean of Laguna artists, will speak on "Art and the Soul" on the first program Nov. 6. Other speakers on successive Sundays will be Roy M. Ropp, William Griffith, Julia Bracken Wendt, Charles Riesner and Lee Hayes.

Malay natives tip darts with poison sap from the upas tree, but there is no truth in tales that the tree's poison can kill birds that merely fly around it.

church, and that the laying on of hands is the apostolic method of believing in Episcopal ordination, the one by a bishop, the other by a presbytery acting in its Episcopal capacity."

The Rt. Rev. E. L. Parsons, San Francisco, Episcopal bishop of California, presided at the sessions. An executive committee was set up to act between formal meetings of the commissions, the next of which will be held at Princeton sometime around Christmas.

"How did it happen that you saw this, Kelsey?" "Mrs. Stoddard has been feeling badly. She says she's got a pain in the back, but I think it's nerves. Anyway, she told me to come to her cabin during the night in case she couldn't sleep and wanted more massage."

"At three or four in the morning!" Denis exclaimed, incredulously.

"You don't know her!" Kelsey answered. "You're not very fond of the Stoddards, are you?" "She treats me like a dog—and he lets her. But if you think I'm just telling this for spite, you're wrong! I'm not that crazy that I would say that!"

"No, I suppose not," Denis murmured. "Well, thanks for telling us—but keep this to yourself, will you?"

"Don't worry! I don't want the same thing or worse happening to me!"

The maid turned, and furtively slipped away.

"Well, that's a wild tale!" Hugo exclaimed. "I believe it to be true," said Denis. "Ceil Stoddard."

"Do you think he might be the murderer?"

"Under that mask of silliness he wears, he might be anything!" said Denis.

THE four of them separated soon after that, Hugo and Denis going to see how the repairs on the engines were progressing, and Charlie going to her cabin to rest. Teddy wandered into the lounge.

NEW 135-FT. YACHT SAILS INTO NEWPORT

NEWPORT BEACH.—Captain and Mrs. Fred Lewis have returned to Newport harbor aboard their new 135-foot Diesel powered yacht, "The Stranger."

The new ship recently was completed at the Union Dry Dock and Machine works in Seattle. Captain Lewis said there was no foundation to reports that he would leave soon on a world cruise to collect rare sea shells, although the well known naturalist, explorer and world traveler, said a long trip probably will be planned when the new "Stranger" is completely equipped for cruising.

The new yacht is powered with two Diesel engines of 200 horsepower each. The 135-foot craft has a beam of 22 feet and a cruising speed of 11 knots. It has both wireless and wireless telephone equipment.

Republican Women Will Serve Tea

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Reception is planned at Baptist church Nov. 1 in honor of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Baldwin, who will observe their golden wedding anniversary.

BLIND VOYAGE

Theodore (Teddy) Raynor, her Aunt Elsie, and Hugo Albright sail for a cruise on the motor yacht, the Golden Gull, though they are warned by Denis that they are in for a rough time. There is something about the yacht, he says, that is not good. He is in charge; the beautiful Charis Winslow, a friend of Graham's; Cecil Stoddard, wealthy playboy; Mrs. Stoddard and her maid, Kelsey; Roy Parrin, ex-acrobat; Mrs. Marvis, authoress; John Carper, millionaire; and Professor Turner. The stewardess, after trying to sell secret information to Teddy, is murdered. The next night, the engines are disabled and the following morning, word is received that Parrin has been murdered. He has been left his cabin during the night to see why the engines had stopped, and was slugged from behind. Kelsey tells Teddy, Hugo, Denis and Charis that Cecil Stoddard slugged him.

"What have you seen?" Teddy asked, in as matter-of-fact a tone as she could muster.

"A person—man or woman. I can't say. A person who prowls around at night in a long black cloak and a hood!"

Teddy felt a shiver run down her spine.

"When was this?" she asked. "Shortly after midnight. I stayed late here in the lounge, reading and I think I was the last person to go down to bed. Just as I was going down, I saw this cloak and masked figure slip out of the dining saloon onto the deck—and disappear into the darkness. I had only a glimpse."

"Where you seen?" "I haven't seen him." "Who—who do you think it was?"

"The murderer, Miss Raynor!" "So you no longer think I'm guilty?" Teddy couldn't help remarking.

"Of course not! I meant to apologize before for what I said at the meeting yesterday morning. I just momentarily lost my head."

"It's all right," said Teddy. "But do you believe what I just told you? You don't think it was my imagination?"

"Yes—I believe you." "After all that had happened, Teddy was ready to believe anything!"

MRS. Marvis rose. "Well, I just wanted to tell you to go to bed. I wouldn't say too much about it if I were you. And sure to lock your door at night!"

With this warning, the woman departed, leaving Teddy feeling decidedly uncomfortable.

She was relieved when Hugo appeared soon afterwards. "You look as though you'd been seeing ghosts, darling," he remarked.

"I haven't—but other people have."

Teddy told him Mrs. Marvis' story. He listened attentively then clasped his fist in his palm and said, "This is all something to our hands on! If we can catch this person."

"You think it is the murderer?"

"Certainly! Anyway, who it is will have some tale to tell. It's all right. Wait till Denis hears this! He—"

Hugo broke off, and swung round to find that Cecil Stoddard had come quietly into the lounge and was standing a few feet away a silly grin on his face.

Come to Church

CHURCHES GIVE TRIAL-DRAMA

The temperance trial-drama, "Death Takes the Steering Wheel," was given last night in the Nazarene church, the United Brethren church cooperating, under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League of California, with George Y. Hammond, state superintendent, taking the part of the defense attorney. Rev. Everett E. Johnson, pastor of the United Brethren church played the role of district attorney, and W. J. Julian, judge.

The arguments on both sides brought out the fact that alcohol and gasoline don't mix.

The jury, consisting of six members each from the two co-operating churches, brought in a verdict of guilty, and the defendant was ordered by the court to "appear for sentence at 10 o'clock October 29th."

Just preceding the "trial" and following it Mr. Hammond gave facts regarding the effects of the liquor traffic.

South S. A. Church of Christ Buys Site and Plans Building

By MRS. J. J. KELLY, Secretary

South Santa Ana Church of Christ was organized January 8, 1933. This is a new congregation representative of the New Testament Restoration Movement, whose people feel that while all the churches are doing good, have much of the scripture in their teaching and possess good men, yet they are weakened and handicapped because they are divided. Hence, our aim is not to start another church, but to call the people back to the church of the New Testament; without denominational name, man-written creed or other barrier to Christian unity, whose terms of fellowship are as broad as the conditions of salvation and identical with them.

Louis Alan White, Pacific Bible Seminary graduate, is our minister. Our place of worship is at 2060 South Main street, at which place we have been for two years. We have purchased two lots in the 1900 block on Cypress and are hoping to build in the very near future.

Our regular Bible school is held every Lord's Day and is superintended by Mr. Charles Hoff. The teachers for Bible school are as follows: Mrs. Alta Hoff, beginners; Mrs. Anna Cozad, primary; Mrs. Myrtle Bosworth, junior girls; Homer Lindley, junior boys; Mrs. Louis Alan White, intermediate girls; Mrs. Ruth C. Jones, young people; Mrs. Ella Cannon, adults. The birthday offerings taken during Bible school have been sent to Mothers and Babies Home in St. Louis, Mo.

The young people meet every Lord's Day evening under leadership of Mrs. Ruth C. Jones and Mrs. Louis Alan White. All assemble in auditorium for song service and devotionals. Ralph Kelly is pianist. For lesson period they are divided in two classes.

After the lesson they have a hand work period which is proving very interesting. The older group is building a miniature tabernacle, which is educational as well as artistic.

This summer we conducted our first Daily Vacation Bible School, which was conducted anywhere. We had an average attendance of 90. Enrollment for the two weeks was 148. Mrs. Louis Alan White, also

SCREEN ATTRACTIONS AT SANTA ANA THEATERS

CONSTRUCTION OF SUEZ CANAL FILM'S THEME

Produced with the magnitude possible only on the screen, one of the most memorable pictures ever to come out of Hollywood, "Suez," opens an engagement today at the West Coast theater.

"Suez" is truly a great picture, according to reviews. The story is of heroic proportions. It tells of the amazing Ferdinand de Lesseps, who dreamed of creating the short route to the East, sought vainly by Columbus and Magellan, by tearing continents apart and joining the Mediterranean with the Red sea. The great canal he built, on which ships sail through the desert, has become the jocular vein of the world.

When the savage black simoon roars in from the Sahara desert to provide a climax of terrifying power, audiences will see what is said to be one of the motion picture production miracles. The devil-wind, twisting and destroying, levels everything in its path, and nearly wrecks the great work of de Lesseps in building the Suez canal.

Driven by the love of two women, de Lesseps realized his magnificent dream despite the most discouraging obstacles a man ever faced. The role of de Lesseps is interpreted by Tyrone Power, who shares stellar honors with Loretta Young and Annabella. Others in the notable cast include J. Edward Bromberg, Joseph Schildkraut, Henry Stephenson, Sidney Blackmer, Maurice Moscovitch, Sig Ruman, Nigel Bruce, Miles Mander and many more.

A canal half a mile long, 100 feet deep and 150 feet across was dug by movie crews in the American desert near Yuma, Ariz., for scenes in "Suez." Other dramatic sequences were filmed on a 20-acre desert constructed on an abandoned golf course. Royal courts of Europe and Egypt were built for the film, which is highlighted by the romantic story of the loves that drove de Lesseps to the realization of his dream.

"Suez" is a $250,000 movie quiz contest picture.

'BROTHER RAT' HERE IN WEEK

With Wayne Morris and Priscilla Lane as its stars, the new comedy, "Brother Rat," will open at the Broadway theater next Sunday, a week from tomorrow, it was announced today.

"Brother Rat," based on the famous stage play of the same name, is a story laid in and about the Virginia military institute. It deals with the difficulties into which one of the cadets gets himself by entering upon a sacred marriage, a business distinctly against all rules and regulations.

The indiscreet cadet is played by Eddie Albert, who carried the role in the original Broadway play. Little Jane Bryan is the bride who has to be hidden away. "Rat" is the name for freshmen at the C. M. I., and "Brother Rats" are classmates who go together through a four-year course in the famous Virginia institution.

Guilt Admitted In Knife Attack

Accused of assaulting Dorothy Adams with a knife Oct. 1, William Hernandez yesterday changed his plea from not guilty to guilty, and asked Superior Judge James L. Allen for probation. He will have a hearing Nov. 4.

Canal Building Made Theme

Tyrone Power, in the role of Ferdinand de Lesseps whose genius built the Suez canal, points out to Annabella the approaching black simoon, spectacular climax to "Suez," dramatic story of the building of the great canal which opens today at the West Coast theater. It is a $250,000 Movie Quiz contest picture.

Humorist at the Broadway

$80,000 Stradivarius Violin Will Be Heard Soon in West Coast's 'The Great Waltz'

Above the great orchestras playing the music of Johann Strauss in "The Great Waltz" sang the golden tones of what is acclaimed the world's most valuable violin.

This is the Da Vinci Stradivarius, declared by experts to be the finest example of the ancient art of the violin maker. It is owned by Toscha Seidel, eminent concert artist, who was soloist for important numbers in the musical score of the new picture, which opens soon at the West Coast theater.

Made by Stradivarius in the 17th century, the violin's history is obscure up to 1856 when, after changing hands many times, it came into possession of the House of Chardon in Paris. The Chardons christened it the Da Vinci violin. It created a furor among musicians. From this family it went to the Lachmann collection in Germany. When depression had struck, it was sent to the United States.

Great Register Will Cost $6700

BOB BURNS IS HOBO PRINTER AT BROADWAY

Bob Burns fans, who have long been demonstrating that their favorite star he cast in a big dramatic role and take his deserved place alongside the great portrayals of native American characters, see their wish come true in "The Arkansas Traveler," now showing at the Broadway theater.

Casting aside the bazooka and musical comedy wisecracks, which started him on the path to screen fame, Burns now portrays the most colorful character of his career—the happy-go-lucky wandering printer who edits a country newspaper in order to help a lady in distress and ends up by overturning a powerful political regime.

The homespun story shows "The Traveler" interrupting his life of wandering in a hobo cavalcade when he arrives in a small town and finds the lady-owner of the local newspaper in danger of being put out of business by crooked politicians. The lady concerned is played by Fay Bainter.

When Burns takes over the editorship of the paper, things begin to happen in the home town. Determined to wipe out corruption in the community, he boldly challenges the machine politicians and the war is on. But every time the politicians pull a rabbit out of the hat, "The Traveler" goes them one better. In a roaring climax, when they seize his presses, Burns counters by enlisting his fellow-hoboes to help him erect a radio station in time to come out against a bond issue, upon which the fate of the political machine depends.

Weaving in and out of the story of Burns' adventures as a crusading editor is a romance between Jean Parker and John Beal. Others in the supporting cast are Lyle Talbot, Porter Hall, Dickie Moore and Irvin S. Cobb.

Second feature is "Broadway Musketees," a modern story of life in a big city featuring Marie Wilson, Ann Sheridan, Margaret Lindsay and John Lital.

SHIRLEY'S 18TH FEATURE WILL BE SEEN HERE

How long will Shirley Temple last on the screen?

In planning for her future studio officials are taking good care that the question, first asked five years ago, will be answered with an affirmative "Just as long as she wishes."

In order that Shirley will continue to be the chief box office attraction that she has been for the past three years, studio executives and Shirley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Temple, have worked out a careful plan for her future as an actress.

In accordance with this plan, "Just Around the Corner," which opens next Wednesday at the Broadway theater at the same time it opens in Los Angeles, and which is the 18th feature film in the extraordinary career of the screen's No. 1 star marks a major milestone. It is actually a preview of the Shirley of the future; it marks her debut as a full-fledged dramatic actress.

Although Shirley is cute in "Just Around the Corner," the studio officials have decided that cuteness is not enough. In this picture, Shirley is given a three-fold job. She has to rehabilitate her father, bring a pair of lovers together and at the same time explain herself out of a half-dozen difficult scrapes.

Ebell Sports Group Wins Popularity

Enthusiasm for the newly-formed sports section of Junior Ebell was evinced in fine fashion yesterday at initial sessions of its two divisions. Particularly popular was the golf division, with 22 Ebellers enrolled. Badminton drew only an half dozen young matrons, but several others have indicated their desire to take part in the weekly matches, particularly since they will be held on Wednesdays hereafter so as not to conflict with the golf. The combined section will meet next Wednesday at 8:30 a. m. with Miss Mildred Spicer.

Golfers are privileged to make use of the Santa Ana Country club at a nominal charge each Friday at 8:30 a. m., and are being given group instruction by Roy Renwick, professional there.

Listed as golfers to date are Mrs. Stanley Anderson, Mrs. Walter Bacon, Mrs. Richard Ewert, Mrs. Jack Hanna, Mrs. Lyle Kelley, Mrs. Quentin Matzen, Mrs. James Merigold, Mrs. J. B. Price, Mrs. Albert Harvey, Mrs. Manley Nelson, Mrs. Arthur Wade, Mrs. Raymond Smith, Miss Betty Smith, Mrs. Carleton Smith, Mrs. Chester Horton, Mrs. Jack Rime, Mrs. Wayne Harrison, Mrs. Worth Babitt, Mrs. Roy Renwick, Mrs. M. K. Tedstrom, Mrs. Charles McDaniel, Mrs. Robert Miller.

DUO-PIANO CONCERT ANTICIPATED

Junior Ebellers will have the privilege of hearing a duo-piano concert at their November meeting next Tuesday night, and since it is unique among the programs of this and past years, visitors and guests will be welcome.

To be presented on the stage of the Ebell auditorium are Ruth Stinton and Miriam Ronkin, adept at both classical and modern renditions. They will be presented by Mrs. George Walker, program chairman.

A bride of Tuesday was Mrs. Frank C. Graham, the former Lois Marie Franke of Santa Ana, daughter of the W. H. Prankes, who with her new husband, sails tomorrow for South America where they will live in Lima, Peru, for the next two years.

HONORARY CLUB INITIATES

The Allan A. Revills opened their Balboa island home Wednesday evening when initiation services of Sigma Phi Sigma, Santa Ana Junior college musical honorary, were held for the Misses Verna Osborn, Margaret Jayberg, Margaret Elmsner, Ruth Alden, Virginia Mathews, Marjorie Ball, and George Hyde, Vernon Wenden, Le Roy Wells, Norman St. Claire, Milton Asher.

The ceremony was conducted by Miss Ann May Archer president of the group, with clever candle-light arrangement. The entire evening was lighted solely with tapers. Games and refreshments concluded the affair. Besides the new candidates, members were the advisors for the club, Miss Myrtle A. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Revill.

BUFFET SUPPER SERVED CO-EDS

Miss Phyllis Kogler received fourteen girls last evening for a potluck supper before the San Bernardino-Santa Ana game in her home in Orange.

Singing, dancing and chatter filled a pleasant hour before dining. Informality was further stressed when the hostess served her dinner buffet style.

WEDDING IS REVEALED AT MEETING

The marriage of Miss Gertrude Gross and Harry Allen of this city was revealed to have occurred at high noon Thursday when the bride's mother, Mrs. Grace Gross, received a telegram from Palm Springs that same afternoon at a meeting of Magnolia circle, R. N. A. Mrs. Gross had planned the telegram to inform their friends of the event.

The meeting was at the home of Mrs. Ethel Gross, 1609 East First street, decorated with lovely autumn flowers from the garden of the hostess and of Mrs. A. G. Lavery.

A feature of the day was the serving of a birthday cake baked by Mrs. Grace Gross to honor her daughter, Mrs. Mary Kendall, and Mrs. Dora Arnold, both of whose anniversaries were that day.

At a business meeting presided over by Mrs. Isabel Eivik, it was announced that Mrs. Nettie Smith would entertain the group at her home, 2454 Heliotrope drive, Nov. 17. The meeting was advanced a week because its regular time would fall on Thanksgiving.

SCOUT TROOP ENJOYS PARTY

Choosing a vacant house as the scene of their Halloween party members of troop 14 of Girl Scouts met for an evening of games and fun in general Thursday evening.

Corn shocks and pumpkins filled corners of the rooms where the costumed girls enjoyed the informal affair. Refreshments concluded the evening.

Eight Tables In Play At Third Party

By arranging that each one of their members of four autumn luncheon parties should have a completely different motif, Mrs. John Wehrly and Mrs. John Lucien Wehrly have intrigued their guests at each affair and at the same time have increased their own enjoyment in their hospitality.

Yesterday's third party employed a modernistic harvest theme, with squatty round candles in glowing bronze tones centering each of the eight small tables. They were encircled with vivid-toned autumn leaves, and the same luscious colors were used in persimmons, grapes, nuts and various tropical fruits spilling out on surrounding vantage points. Rich bronze shades were repeated in tallies and prize wrappings.

Mrs. George Sattler and Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon were the fortunate high-scorers of the day, and the charming mother and daughter-in-law hostesses combination had as assistant for the day in checking and receiving their guests, Mrs. J. E. Liebig.

SECTION MEETS FOR GUEST NIGHT AT CLUB

Members of the Third Travel section of Ebell held their annual guest night party in the lounge of the clubhouse last evening with a large crowd in attendance.

Mrs. S. W. Nau, leader, greeted guests, and turned the program over to Mrs. Edith Cloyes who introduced Mrs. John Tessier, who reviewed Louis Brandeis' latest novel, "The Rains Came," a story of India. Her review was most interesting and complete.

Refreshments were served at the end of the evening by refreshment committee members who are Mrs. Jessie White, Mrs. Herbert Walker, Mrs. W. W. Kays and Miss Gertrude Minor.

The sections' uplift for the year was selected as follows: "Travels strengthen nerves, enlarge minds, destroys prejudices and deepens lives."

R. N. A. HOLDS DANCE THIS WEEK

With a good crowd in attendance, members of the Golden State Royal Neighbors of Ancient Egyptians held their dance in the K. of C. hall Wednesday evening.

Music was furnished by Grace Gross and her band in the hall, festive in Halloween decorations. The costumed participants were judged as they marched by a committee selected to choose the best costumes. Prizes were won by Nola Morse and Pearly Garr.

Refreshments were served during the evening, the affair being under the direction of Flora Dolbe assisted by Ruth Newman, Alice Bean, Lena Pope and Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Martin.

TEA GIVEN FOR SCHOLARSHIP

Mrs. S. P. Harris received members of the United Daughters of the Confederacy at a Kensington tea one afternoon this week in her lovely Orange home.

The program had been planned with informality in view and Mrs. Harris read some interesting letters which she has in her possession dealing with parts of the South during the 1850's. Later Mrs. Anna Blythe recounted her trip through the historic parts of the southern states which she made this past summer.

Mrs. J. W. Taylor and Mrs. Blythe presided at the gracious silver urns at the hour, following which an offering was taken for the Mrs. Victor Montgomery scholarship which the group maintains at Occidental college.

MRS. RHONE IS HOSTESS

Mrs. Thomas Rhone of Orange entertained in charming fashion yesterday afternoon, serving luncheon at an Halloween decked table.

Six Santa Anans were guests at the affair, including Mrs. Calvin Flint, Mrs. Clarence Ranney, Mrs. Claude Brakebill, Mrs. Ray Tarr, Mrs. Newell Vandermast and Mrs. E. F. Elfstrom. Mrs. Tarr and Mrs. Ranney were winners of pretty prizes in cosmetics.

CHICAGOAN HERE
Mr. and Mrs. William C. Childs, Jr., drove to Riverside this morning to meet the f-mers' mother, Mrs. William C. Childs of Chicago, who will be their guest until December. She is the wife of Mrs. Perry Lewis's brother, and consequently will divide her time between the Lewis and Childs homes. Her early return is necessitated by the fact that she and her husband are building a lovely new home in Gary, Ind., from which Mrs. Childs commutes to his position in the First National bank of Chicago.

Mrs. Harwood and Chad, Jr.

It is a busy twenty-ninth of October today in the home of Dr. Chad Harwood and Mrs. Harwood, with principal interest being centered in Master Chad Harwood, Jr., whose first birthday anniversary it is. In celebration attractive Mrs. Harwood is entertaining at a party for a group of very little children, and a number of her friends. Then this evening is scheduled an Halloween costume dance at the Santa Ana Country club, sponsored by the Boy in Spur Riding club, of which Mrs. Harwood is an active member. Previous to it, she and Dr. Harwood are receiving a group in their home at 1111 Lowell street. The dance is open to the public.

THURSDAY GROUP TO MEET NEXT ON WEDNESDAY

Novel procedure characterized this week's program of Thursday Evening Literary section of Ebell club, for after gathering at the home of Mrs. Horace Leeling, the members voted to postpone their scheduled program and went in a body to the high school to attend the political rally there.

Returning to the house later, they enjoyed a social hour and refreshment course. Mrs. E. D. White and Mrs. John Cloyes, honored guests, presided over a table attractive with ragged zinnias in autumn shades.

Since next regular meeting of the group would fall on Thanksgiving Day, the group voted to postpone it until the last Wednesday of November, the 30th.

Members present, with the four hostesses, were Mrs. Merton Butler, Mrs. William Croddy, Mrs. George Paul, Dr. Stella Davis, Mrs. Harold Moomaw, Mrs. Cassius Paul, Mrs. Kenneth Ranney, Mrs. Stanley Reinhaus and Mrs. E. Lee Russell.

CHAT AWHILE with BETTY

Time to put on your ear-muffs children, and under that hole in the pocket where all the small change has been dripping through, because—careful now!—Christmas eve is just exactly eight weeks from today! Of course in the meantime we have to get over the hump of Halloween, Armistice day, and Thanksgiving, but they'll breeze right by in quick order with the only visible sign of their passage the overnight change in "motif" that everyone's parties will have.

Right now this department is pretty soured on the words "Halloween," but with the prospect of "turkeys," "turkeys," and "turkeys" in view for the next four weeks one is not overly-anxious to jump from the frying pan into the fire. How about some of you hostesses using miniature cannons and heaps of fodder to "center your tables in an artistic manner" for a week or so in between? Their symbolism would be just as good, and oh, such a relief!

A goodly number of folk are all agog over the intriguing invitations in the mail early this week for an "Alice in Wonderland" party to be hosted Monday by Katherine and Charles McDaniel and Rose Marie and Cal Flint. The agogness is tinged somewhat by dismay, because it's a frightful problem. For once, when the local emporiums are simply abrim with fascinating masques, they offer no solution to the problem. Many of the fates are taking refuge in the thought that they "can always be Alice" but what the men are going to do is something else again. The invitations decree being a character, anything from the White Rabbit to and through Tweedle-dum, but for the most part their fantastic faces and bodies are a trifle hard to duplicate. There's an idea, however! Somebody could be "trifled" with. Heard a rumor that Howard Timmons was going to be the "titled mouse"—which ought to be interesting.

Incidentally, it's dinner at seven, and masqued!

Dick and Ed Emerson were off by train for Chicago yesterday, planning to join the Clarence Jordan there for a week, and later drive in the Jordan car to Memphis and New Orleans. The Herbert Millers, who've been dallying in various spots in the east since going through the canal last month, are en route home—after also having played for a week in Chicago with the Jordans. Don't get me wrong, however—the Jordans still live in Santa Ana!

Here and there: The sweetly southern Misses Montgomery have returned to their North Main street family home after a summer and a couple of additional months at their Balboa cottage. Bob and Frances Fernandez were toying with the idea of whipping up to Portland for today's gridiron encounter between Oregon and U. S. C., and apparently succumbed to the idea, since phone calls haven't been answered for the past two days. Junior Ebell Book Reviewers have dropped the idea of having another children's play at Christmas-time, mostly because everyone is enthusiastic till it comes to the point of giving up the necessary time to such an undertaking. Anyway, the advent of a professional troupe (the Claire Tree Major Children's theater) on Nov. 9 and Dec. 14 make an amateur attempt a little dubious. Eleanor Wilson, that dynamic little lady who is state president of Junior Federated clubs, is a week-end guest at the home of Ninette and Russell Wilson, and the two girls were off with Nancy White, sr., for Homet today for the district conclave. Florence Robinson is on the sick list. Harriet Gruettner Mills, over from Palos Verdes for the day, confided she was making the momentous move of transferring her small daughter from bassinet to bed this week. Alden Allen, son of the Herbert A's, is starting the first of six weeks in a cast with a broken leg. Sammie Smith was hurriedly became her formal self, Mrs. Carleton Smith, when she hit a car ahead of her a terrific bump, and caught a glimpse of the driver's khaki uniform cap! Her relief was great when he got out and turned out to be a gas man instead of an officer. Mrs. Paul Dimmore is still in Piedmont, hopes to be home soon. Mrs. Clarence Ranney's new piled up hair-dress is extremely becoming, but she's getting pretty disgusted at the required half hour of combing it. I think it's pretty cute of Virginia and Worth Babbitt to live on Main Street. The willywavs Mrs. Anton Segerstrom was a picture at Ebell this week, all in black save for a bit of blue feather hat, and blue pumps below. Mrs. George Sattler celebrated her birthday last week-end. The B. J. MacMullens are happily at

Garden Grove Couple Are Married

In a quiet ceremony witnessed only by members of their families, Miss Elynor Catherine Luz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Luz, Friday evening became the bride of Vincent S. Wentz, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wentz. The rites were read at 7 o'clock by the Rev. Father J. C. Quastana in the rectory of the Anaheim Catholic church, the couple standing against a background of autumn flowers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a fall ensemble of a smart wine color, with matching accessories of black and and gardenias. Her only attendant was the bridegroom's sister, Miss Bette Wentz, who wore a black crepe gown with jacket and corsage of rosebuds.

Bob Wentz, who came down from the University of California at Berkeley for the wedding, attended his brother as best man. Leaving immediately following the wedding for a short honeymoon trip of unknown destination, the couple will, upon their return, make their home at 504 Eastwood street, Santa Ana. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wentz are graduates of Garden Grove High school, the bride later attending Santa Ana Junior college and Mr. Wentz Fullerton jaycee. The bride was a popular member of Las Gitanas club.

REBEKAHS ENJOY HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Torosa Rebekahs had a joyous Halloween costume party on Wednesday night, for they welcomed back their noble grand, Mrs. Minnie Squire, who has been in Scotland for several weeks.

Birthdays of Herbert Allen, Mrs. A. House, Grace Heartfield, Estelle Grey and Mary Ann Knox, all of which occurred in September and October, were celebrated by the group, and the charter was made memory of Mabel Elliott, whose death occurred in Orange early in the week.

It was announced that the lodge's prize card chest would be awarded at a meeting the fourth Wednesday of November.

Before the dancing and cards that concluded the evening, John Crawford and G. Stovall acted as judges of the costumes, and awarded prizes to Beulah Parker, Hattie Cozad, and Laura Tramel.

Mrs. Parker and her niece, Miss Joyce Parker, sang several enjoyable songs, and the latter performed a clog dance.

At the refreshment hour, members and guests were ushered into the banquet hall where Irene Lancaster had arranged colorful table decorations of persimmons, apples and pumpkins, with ghosts at intervals along the board.

HARD-TIMES COSTUMES ARE AMUSING

Tri-Quad Bridge club members were entertained Wednesday evening by Mrs. Russell Daley at the Dixie Castle, and having been asked to dress for a hard-time party, appeared in costumes as comical as they were varied. Overalls and patches were much in evidence, as well as evening gowns of yesterday. Two costumes which attracted the most attention were those worn by Mrs. Virgil H. Reed and her sister, Miss Grace Wurster. Mrs. Reed was in a gay nineties frock and was escorted by Miss Wurster as Harpo Marx.

Dessert was served in a private diningroom decorated in the Halloween motif and at bridge later, Mrs. Walter Templeton had high scores and Mrs. Daley second.

Members who shared in the gay party, to be followed by one Nov. 9 at the home of Mrs. Frank Glaab, when "favorite character" costumes will be in order, were Mrs. Virgil H. Reed, Mrs. Robert Luffbery, Mrs. Frank Glaab, Mrs. Walter Templeton, Mrs. Kenneth Hill and the Misses Hum Kendall, Jeannette Jorgensen, Edna Mae Heim, Margaret Young, Blanche Sigel and Grace Wurster.

WOMAN'S CLUB SCHEDULE IS TOLD

Woman's club of Santa Ana will convene in regular session next Tuesday, with Mrs. Arthur Schellman, state chairman of the American home, as featured speaker. In addition there will be music by a Santa Ana Junior college boys' octet, directed by Miss Myrtle Martin, and Mrs. J. D. McCracken, club legislation chairman, will discuss pending legislation.

On Monday, the Bibliophile section of the club will meet at the home of Mrs. William Kuhn, 526 Artesia street, for a 12:30 p. m. pot-luck luncheon. Reservations are to be made by calling Mrs. Kuhn.

A meeting of Garden section this week at the home of Mrs. L. G. Holman, 1104 North Baker street, Mrs. R. W. Cole and Mrs. F. De Loge read papers on fall bulbs and other fall plants. Mrs. Fred Huntress of Los Angeles, a daughter of Mrs. De Loge, was a special guest.

RECEPTION FOLLOWS RITES HERE

The wedding of Miss Betty Jean Hering, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Hering of Fullerton, and Thomas L. Hald, son of Mrs. Olga Hald of Santa Ana, was solemnized at the Santa Ana Wedding chapel Thursday evening.

Both the bride and her maid of honor, Miss Lorena M. Sweeney of Fullerton, were attired in smart black tulleures with gardenias, and in addition the former carried a small white Bible. Chesney E. Hering attended his sister's bridegroom, and the Rev. Earl C. Bloss officiated.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, and the couple left on a honeymoon of unknown destination, after which they will be at home in North Hollywood.

HOBBY GROUP HEARS GUEST

As a special guest of the Lace-makers' guild was Mrs. Bertha M. Oxenius of Pomona, in the home of Mrs. James Hird at 1502 West Third street, when the group met there Thursday.

Dr. Oxenius learned lace-making while attending school in her native Sweden, and showed some exquisite patterns while here. She is the only authentic lace maker on the Pacific coast according to Mrs. Hird.

The book, "Pillow Lace," by Mincroft and Marriage was reviewed, and the serving of refreshments completed the afternoon.

Present with Dr. Oxenius and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Oxenius was Mrs. W. C. Coates of Boston, Mass., a special guest, and the members, Mrs. Culver, Mrs. W. P. Porter, Mrs. Bessie Heimley, Mrs. D. C. Voss, Mrs. S. E. Cook, and the hostess.

The spacious hall of the "Y" was festooned with black and orange streamers, with black cats arching their backs from high vantage points around the walls. As guests were received by presidents and representatives of each group, club colors were presented each according to previous affiliations.

Miss Josephine Butler in blue chiffon, Miss Betty Neff in ice blue tulle and Miss Dorothy Newman in wine red chiffon greeted returning Las Meninas, while Miss Margaret Jayberg in apricot lace, Miss Mary Jane Norwood in a bright taffeta print, and Miss Anna Mae Archer in charreuse received for Piloteers. Moavs were represented by Miss Merle Swingle in blue net and Miss Esther Belle Christian in a smart black taffeta. Miss Justine Krock in fuschia slipper satin, Miss Gertrude Yount, wearing a printed silk, Miss Jane Hager in pale blue pique and Miss Dorothy Hess, gown in wine red, planned Las Gitanas colors on their guests. Miss Gloria Kirchner and Miss Bettie Timmons in American Beauty net, Miss Shirley Galusha in turquoise net, Miss Peggy Paxton in black, and Miss Naomi Knipe, in deep purple chiffon, received former Spinlets.

Presiding at a daintily appointed tea table were the Misses Vera Scott and Isa Grace Young.

During the afternoon incidental music by Miss Verna Osborn mingled with reminiscent guests, and Miss Tomie Sue McChristy sang several numbers. Miss Archer offered cello selections on the program which was under the direction of Las Meninas. Decorations were executed by Las Gitanas while Piloteers and Moavs arranged refreshments and pouring Spinlets were in general pinning, all committees working under the supervision of Miss Audrey Sattler.

The Misses Ruth Liggett, Norma Daly, Marian Adams, Joyce Wentworth, Phyllis Johnson, Lorraine Sweet, were graceful in their afternoon frocks as they seated their guests and served during the tea hours.

Harold Lilley's two-yard plunge netted Tustin's first touchdown, after a drive from his team's 39 in the first quarter. The second score came on a 21-yard pass from Walt Linker to Charles Scott in the second period. Elterman plunged two yards for Laguna's score in the fourth quarter, and then passed to Delaney for the extra point.

Football teams of Long Beach Jordan and Excelsior today were still leading in the Sunset league race as a result of yesterday's games. Long Beach defeated Orange, 19-6, while Excelsior shut out Huntington Beach, 13-0.

Newport Harbor's eleven dropped a step in the standings as the result of a scoreless tie with Anaheim.

Yesterday's thriller was the Jordan-Orange game played at Orange. Five plays in the first period were all that were needed for the beach team to score three touchdowns.

Receiving Orange's opening kick-off, Halfback Glen Shoop returned the ball to his own 36. On the first play, Shoop carried the ball on a reverse and standing five yards behind the goal line. Shoop raced around his own left end and behind perfect interference, and ran the length of the field for Jordan's second touchdown.

Shoop passed 25 yards to Stewart for Jordan's third touchdown.

Orange scored in the second quarter on a 64-yard drive. A 10-yard pass from John Harms to Howard Luchan netted the touchdown.

TWO GAMES TOP GRID SLATE

Pitt, Fordham Lure 75,000

NEW YORK. (AP)—The great madness reaches new heights when Pittsburgh plays Fordham and Notre Dame invades the East to play Army in two of the most important games of this or any season.

The rest of the schedule shows enough class and color to make it a banner day, but these two meetings steal the show. Some 75,000 expect to pack the Panther stadium and about the same number will jam Yankee stadium to watch the Irish and the Cadets.

The game at Pittsburgh is the more important from a national standpoint.

Out there they say Jock Sutherland's regime has produced its finest eleven in the present team. It is unbeaten, untied and unapproachable so far. Never has Sutherland's single wing offense been so potent as in the last four Saturdays with Marshall Goldberg, Dick Cassino, Harold Stebbins and John Chickemeo operating between a fast, savagely blocking line. The attack is murderous overland or in the air.

With this in mind Fordham apparently has only an outside chance, but to those who have watched the Maroon develop it has a very good one. Jim Crowley has bought his club along with this game in mind. His attack is functioning as no Fordham attack has run before, he has a great running back in the sophomore Len Eshmont, durable reserves and an experienced line.

The Rams are unbeaten, have been tied only by Purdue. This is their big chance. The team that beats Pitt will, for a week at least, be the top team of the action.

There have been three scoreless ties between the rivals. If the non-scoring agreement is still in effect by Saturday night it's time to burn the form chart.

POLO MATCH ON GARDEN GROVE FIELD

Polo returns to Orange county again tomorrow afternoon, when Capt. Harry Marrell's Valencia team will battle a Long Beach quartet on Marrell field in Garden Grove at 2:15 o'clock. There will be no admission charge.

Ed Hall of Santa Ana is a member of the Valencia team organized by Marrell, who has been stimulating polo interest in the county the past few months. Other regulars are Eddie Ewert and Dr. E. J. Steen, with Andy Moore as alternate.

Long Beach stars, listed in their playing order, are Gus Walker, Frank Crowley, Otto Rousseau and Ambrose Walker.

Stanley McFey of Santa Ana will referee. A public address system will keep the fans informed as to the progress of the game.

Several other games will be arranged for the Garden Grove field, Marrell said. He has billed a doubleheader for Nov. 13, when the Elsinore Naval and Military school will play the Valencia Juniors comprised of players 14 years of age or under. The Valencia Seniors will play Redlands in the featured game.

Garcia Shows Up Well in Ring Workout

NEW YORK. (AP)—There has been increasing opinion for the last several days that Henry Armstrong will get knocked off the hinges by Cefterino Garcia in their fight for the welterweight championship next Wednesday night at the Garden.

Garcia, a powerful, hard-hitting Filipino, has looked extremely good in every workout while Armstrong appears to have lost some of his zing in the two months since he won the lightweight crown in a gory mix-up with Lou Ambers. A lot of the wise old heads like Dumb Dan Morgan have looked the pair over carefully and have picked Garcia.

At first practically all of them were stringing along with Henry, the furious little negro, despite the 10 pounds he must concede to the battle-scarred challenger. They said "you've got to stick with the champion." But now they are beginning to suspect that Armstrong at last has been over-matched.

While Garcia has been belting sparring partners clear out of the ring with his terrific under-hand swipes, Armstrong's workouts have been listless except for rare flurries. Henry's under lip that was so badly cut in the Ambers' fight became bruised in one of his first sparring sessions and he since has done his boxing protected by a mask something like those worn by baseball catchers.

There are inhabitants of Pittsburgh and South Bend who were surprised to learn, several other games on the schedule. The East offers such inveterate entanglements as Harvard-Princeton; Yale-Dartmouth, Cornell-Columbia and Penn-Navy and two others of note, Holy Cross-Colgate and Ohio State-New York.

In the mid-west there are Northwestern-Minnesota—danger for the Gophers there—Michigan-Illinois, Wisconsin-Indiana and Michigan State-Clark. Texas Christian will be tested by Baylor in the Southwest. Unbeaten Duke meets an old rival, North Carolina, in one of the South's big games, and Mississippi comes north Friday night to meet George Washington. All over the South they're wishing Ole Miss met the green wave of Tulane this season. Out in the Coast U. C. L. A. plays Stanford and Southern California faces Oregon. But don't mention these games in South Bend or Pittsburgh. The boys just don't understand.

Los Angeles. (AP)—Pasadena and San Bernardino still stood out in the western and eastern divisions, respectively of Southern California's Junior college football conference—but both had company in the unbeaten lists.

Pasadena made it four in a row last night by whipping a strong Compton eleven, 20-7, in the Rose Bowl. Jackie Robinson scored twice in the second quarter, and passed to Red Robinson for the other tally. It was Compton's first conference start, but the Tartars had been imposing in previous games.

San Bernardino likewise packed its scoring punch in the second stanza as the Indians rode to a 13-0 victory over Santa Ana. Paul Holmes tossed a short aerial to Hal Finney for the first score, and Finney returned the compliment by passing to Holmes for the second tally a few minutes later. Last year the Indians and Dons played two scoreless ties in their battle for the championship.

Still in the unbeaten column with Pasadena was Santa Monica, which trimmed Los Angeles, 12-0. Glendale edged out Long Beach, 7-6, in another contest.

Chaffey and Fullerton likewise remained undefeated in the eastern section. Chaffey showed power in a 25-7 setback handed Pomona, while Fullerton turned back Citrus, 20-7.

Los Angeles. (AP)—The Cincinnati Bengals Lancers oppose the Los Angeles Bulldogs in a professional football battle at Gilmore stadium tomorrow afternoon, with the local eleven hoping to avenge a 3 to 0 defeat suffered at the hands of the easterners several weeks ago.

One of the stronger teams in the National Pro league, the Lancers brought a big squad west in the first of a series of invasions by the National leagues.

The game is the first major conflict here for the Bulldogs, who built up quite a following here in the past season or two under the tutelage of Coach Elmer (Gloomy Guy) Henderson.

Hollywood. (AP)—George Hansford and Ritchie Fontaine were still in the running for a shot at Lightweight Champion Henry Armstrong's crown today, following their ten-round draw battle at Legion stadium here last night. The Butte, Mont., fighter came in at 133, a pound more than Hansford.

Six thousand fans saw the Los Angeles boy rally after being dropped to the canvass in the first and again in the fifth rounds for no-counts. A majority of the ringsters felt that Fontaine's early lead more than offset Hansford's rousing tenth-round finish when he battered his opponent from one side of the ring to the other.

LEWIS BEATS GAINER TO KEEP TITLE

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—John Henry Lewis today is "the winner and still champion" of the world's light heavyweights—but he doesn't know what to do with the title.

The Phoenix, Ariz., negro, weak from making 174 pounds, successfully withstood the serious challenge of Al Gainer, New Haven Black Panther, four pounds lighter, in a 15-round title bout here last night, unleashing a vicious attack in the final five rounds to win the unanimous decision of the two judges and Referee Dave Fitzgerald.

The Associated Press score card gave Lewis eight rounds, Gainer, who was an overwhelming favorite with the home town gathering, five and two were even. Gainer, who piled up an early lead with steaming left hooks, headed into the tenth round in the van, only to fade under the punishment doled out by the champ's crushing two-fisted attack to the head and body.

In the dressing room after the battle, Lewis said it was a "good scientific fight" but "I don't know what to do with the title. There doesn't seem to be any money in it and hasn't been any since I've had it. I had some trouble making the weight and what I got for risking the title tonight and going through a good tough fight certainly wasn't worth it. I've nothing planned for the future, yet, Gus Greenlee, my manager, and I have to talk it over."

Greenlee, echoing Lewis' feeling about the title, said: "We're a manager's prerogative (all through fighting for peanut money. The champ is still good at this weight, in fact he isn't a better one than ever. There isn't an outstanding challenger for us now. We can lick Tiger Jack Fox (who has been mentioned as a challenger) any day. I'm leaving the future up to the champ. I don't know what we're going to do, but then a title is a title—or is it?"

Al Mele, Gainer's manager, said his fighter fought from the fifth round on with an injured left hand, which pained the local boy severely.

Nevada Loses To College of Pacific, 51-0

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Morale of the University of Nevada football team, shaken by a coaching row, was still lower today as a result of a 51 to 0 defeat by the College of Pacific.

While Pacific trampled over the Nevadans here last night, Coach Doug Shiel assumed the role of a side-line spectator. His assistant, Chester Scranton, directed the Nevada play.

Pacific, in piling up the largest score ever recorded in the home stadium, made one touchdown in the first quarter, one in the second, two in the third and three in the fourth.

Dashiell's resignation, demanded several days ago by members of the Nevada team, was refused by the Nevada university's board of regents.

Fullerton, Chaffey Elevens Triumph

Four straight opponents have failed to cross the goal-line of San Bernardino's Indians, who passed their way to a thrilling 13-0 victory over Santa Ana's Dons at the Municipal bowl last night to advance a step nearer the Eastern conference championship.

Only Chaffey and Fullerton today stood in the way of Doug Smythe's San Bernardino club, which disposed of Citrus, 29-0; Pomona, 6-0, and Riverside, 6-0, before scoring an impressive two-touchdown victory before a capacity crowd here last night.

The defeat left Santa Ana's Dons with only a slim mathematical chance of getting back into the race, which has developed into a three-way fight among San Bernardino, Fullerton and Chaffey. Coach Wendell Pickens' Fullerton eleven remained unbeaten by eliminating Citrus, 29-0, and Chaffey drubbed Pomona, 25-7 in other games last night.

Pass interceptions took the heart out of Santa Ana's attack, and set the stage for one of San Bernardino's touchdowns. Both scores came in the second quarter on two neatly-executed passes.

STAFFORD PUNT BLOCKED. Quarterback Hal Finney, San Bernardino's brilliant passer, turned the tide of battle early in the first quarter when he intercepted one of Larry Monroy's passes and rambled 54 yards up the sidelines to Santa Ana's 31-yard line. The Dons, aided by a 17-yard pass from Monroy to Nunez, had advanced the ball to San Bernardino's 21, and were threatening to score when Finney broke up the rally.

Following Finney's long return, the Indians failed to gain, and Paul Holmes, ace halfback, kicked out of bounds on Santa Ana's four-yard line. "Chuck" Stafford of the Dons got off a good punt to San Bernardino's 40, but the Indians penetrated to Santa Ana's 17. The Dons gained to the 26 on three downs before "Chuck" Stafford's punt was blocked, and rolled out of bounds on Santa Ana's 34.

The Indians were set back to Santa Ana's 43 before they really started rolling. Finney passed to Trust, end, who lated to Johnson, guard, for a 33-yard gain to Santa Ana's 10. Finney passed incomplete over the goal, and then picked up a yard as the first quarter ended. San Bernardino scored on the first play of the second quarter. Finney and a teammate broke into the gear over the goal and Finney snatched a short pass from Holmes. The Dons were completely baffled by the cleverly-executed pass. Center Jim Verdieck's attempted conversion kick was low.

Three of Quarterback Lynn Arnett's passes were intercepted by San Bernardino in the second period. The third interception was made by Finney, who carried the ball from his own 43 to Santa Ana's 31. Finney passed to Doake, halfback, for a first down on the 24, but Carroll Joy, Don, end, broke through and set Finney back to the 30-yard line on the next play. Finney faded back and hurled a long pass over the right side of the line and into the arms of Paul Holmes, halfback, over the Santa Ana goal for San Bernardino's second touchdown. Center Verdieck kicked goal, and the score stood 13-0 as the teams left the field at the half.

FOURTH-QUARTER RALLY. Neither team seriously threatened in the third quarter, marked only by two interceptions. Verdieck intercepted one of Monroy's passes on San Bernardino's 40, and later in the same period, Monroy took the ball away from the Indians by intercepting Finney's pass and returning it to Santa Ana's 28.

The Dons put on a fourth-quarter rally that ended on San Bernardino's 2-yard line. Co-Capt. Larry Timken returned a punt to Santa Ana's 30. Dick Saunders gained 2 yards, and then passed to Vic Lindskog for a first down on the 24. Saunders made 40 and Beck 4 for a first down on the 49. Saunders made 3, and then passed to Joy for another first down on San Bernardino's 36.

Saunders found an opening through right tackle and rambled 25 yards to San Bernardino's 11. Saunders gained 6. On second down, the ball to mid-field and passed incomplete. Saunders then picked up three yards on two frantic plunges through the line, as Santa Ana lost the ball on downs within two yards of the goal.

San Bernardino punted out to the Indians' 31, and the Dons tossed three incomplete passes in another attempt to score. Stafford punted over the goal on fourth down. The Indians, sparked by Finney and Fisher, then advanced the ball to mid-field and Holmes punted to Arnett on Santa Ana's 15. Arnett fired two passes to Joy and Heinisch and the Dons advanced to their own 37 before the final gun sounded.

San Bernardino had the better team on the field last night. The Finney-Holmes passing combination completely baffled the Dons on both touchdown plays, and offset San Bernardino's inability to gain much yardage on running plays through Santa Ana's stubborn defense. . . . The Don line held up well, but the secondary could not cope at times with San Bernardino's aerials. . . . The Dons play at Riverside next Friday night.

THUNDERSTORM CONSTITUTION.

In the summer of 1777, a group of Vermont patriots met at Windsor to adopt a constitution for the new state, but was interrupted by a messenger from Colonel Seth Warner.

General Burgoyne's British army was advancing on the western side of the state, the men were informed. Despite the fact that a new constitution was undergoing a final reading, it was felt expedient to break up the convention and take up arms.

At this critical moment a thunderstorm broke forth, and the delegates were forced to remain indoors.

The First Week of A New Law

You can't judge the ultimate results of a new law within a week, but interesting things have happened during the first six days of the federal wage-hour act.

Probably a million persons received a pay increase that brought them up to 25 cents an hour, while another million were required to work fewer hours a week.

Most amazing disclosures, however, came from Texas where they grow pecans and from Pennsylvania where Fred C. Perkins makes storage batteries.

The amazing part of the pecan industry is that the wage scale gets as low as 10 cents an hour. If a pecan sheller works 10 hours a day for six days he'll earn $6 for his efforts. An industry founded on a 10-cent-an-hour wage scale is economically haywire and needs to be corrected.

However, it's Mr. Perkins who really takes the big red apple. He's had his name in the papers before, for he's the chap who started out to put NRA in its place. He was found guilty, but he was saved from sentence when the supreme court declared NRA unconstitutional.

But he's on his feet again under the klieg lights, sparring away: "I cannot afford to be governed by the ruling and will defy the government to enforce it. If they attempt to crush me, I will do my level best to put their impractical notions to a test of public opinion in every hamlet in America."

Quite an ambitious undertaking, to say the least. There are a lot of hamlets in our land. Can't you visualize Batterman Perkins going from hamlet to hamlet, summoning the population to mass meetings to shed tears at his doleful story?

A committee representing the storage battery industry recently called on Wage-Hour Administrator Elmer F. Andrews in Washington and suggested that steps be taken to fix a minimum not of 25¢ but of 40¢ an hour for workers in battery plants.

We know practically nothing about the battery business, so we can't understand why it is that Mr. Perkins can't pay his men as much as his competitors are willing to pay. But the thought occurs that perhaps, if he spent less time being a martyr to progressive reforms and more time peddling his batteries, he might make the grade.

It is a matter of regret when any plant producing goods which the people need closes, or when any worker, even one drawing a pitifully low wage, loses his job. But a business which can't pay $11 for a week's work can hardly claim to be a boon to interstate commerce. And we'll wager the other side of the picture is seen by the people who live in Lowell, Mass., and Manchester, N. H., and who know what it means to a community when looms are silenced and mills closed by employers moving their plants into the South to get the advantage of lower wage scales.

Paris advices inform that Duchess of Windsor now wears her hair in a roll from ear to ear. It is now up to the duke to wear his mustache in a smear from nostril to nostril.

Anyway, that Chicago case indicated that a fellow can't be the perfect husband who quits washing the dishes to shoot the other fellow.

To Strengthen The Bench

Propositions Nos. 14, 15 and 16 on the Nov. 8 ballot are sponsored by the State Bar and Judicial Council of California and, in our opinion, should be adopted.

No. 14 makes express provision for the prompt removal of a judge upon his conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude. It meets any possible repetition of the situation that arose in Los Angeles when Judge Craig of the District Court of Appeal refused to resign after having been convicted of conspiring to obstruct justice in a federal court.

No. 15 strengthens and enlarges the Judicial Council by cutting down the number of judges on it from 11 to 8 and adding two laymen to be appointed by the governor, three lawyers to be appointed by the State Bar, and the chairmen of the judiciary committees of the senate and assembly. It also empowers the council to adopt rules of practice and procedure for the various courts, but with no authority to enforce them except the power of public opinion.

No. 16 is a constitutional amendment submitted by the legislature at its 1938 special session. It removes a technical flaw in the pension system for judges, which was authorized by the voters in 1934. California was late in providing retirement pay for judges and the pension plan validated by No. 16 is less generous than most. It provides half pay for judges who retire at 70 or past and who have 12 years of service to their credit. Half of the fund from which pensions are paid is contributed by active judges at the rate of 2½ per cent of their salaries.

Berlin traffic cops are ordered to deflate the tires of road hogs. Tally one for Hitler.

Chinese newspapers demand that the war go on. Generalissimo Kai-Shek keeps going on, anyway.

Impolite Democrats back East are calling Hoover the Republican party's pulmotor operator.

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler

NEW YORK—Yes, I know what the constitution says. But, still and all, they come piling in here in hordes with a cardboard suitcase and a letter of introduction to someone who has preceded them to take advantage of the opportunities, and yet you will find thousands of them who never do come to feel that they belong here. They don't want to take a stake in the place. Instead they send our good money back home and cling together to keep alive the old traditions and avoid being assimilated. And all the time they are knocking, knocking, knocking and yearning for the day when they have made a pile here so that they can go home again and live like kings in retirement on the cheap rate of exchange.

EVERETT CALIFORNIANS—You do a little nosing around in New York and you will find little groups and state societies—Hoosiers talking about the frost on the pumpkin and singing about the banks of the Wabash, southerners talking about their old colored mammas and singing about the fields of snowy white, Californians who were starving to death when they left home, yelling "California, Here I Come!" and even Kansans, giving themselves a buildup about the joys and kind fraternity of life on the steppes.

What I say is, if they love it so well back where they came from, why didn't they stay there? And if they are so fastened to the simple honesty and charm of life back home, well, the trains and busses that keep regular schedules, and if they aren't fast enough, there are always the air lines. But can you picture a Hoosier going back to the candlelight gleams through the sycamores in the song they love to sing and unclutching a swell job in New York at 10 times the most he ever made back home? Candlelight! That is a hot one! Let the power go off for one night in New York on account of some labor trouble, for instance, and give them just a little dose of that candlelight stuff and listen to the squawks. Candlelight may be romantic on the banks of the Wabash in the song, but it would be darkness of the nation's hour of doom in New York.

REAL HATCHERY—And clannish! One comes to town, settles around for a few years, makes a nice little spot for himself, meanwhile sending New York dough home, and pretty soon he has got his nephew or his fraternity brother from old Siwash or Spearfish, planted in the office with nothing in New York but a few dollars and nothing to do. Then there comes along his deceased sister's daughter just out of college and he sends her in for a job with another back-homer up the street, and the first thing anybody knows there is a regular batch of them earning a living in New York. Then comes New York, constantly knocking New York, wishing New York was like the place they were so eager to get away from and treating the regular New Yorkers like dirt under their feet.

Yes, I know what the constitution says, but I say if this town is good enough to make a living in they ought to have to make up their minds whether they are going to be New Yorkers or not, and if not get back where they came from. Or, anyway, quit hollering about how they wish they were back there when everybody knows you couldn't bribe them to give up the soft living and big money they get here.

New System Lands Planes Automatically

WASHINGTON—(By Science Service) An automatic system for landing airplanes has been patented here by Francis W. Dunmore, national bureau of standards scientist.

Including an automatic air speed control, the device controls the glide of the plane down the radio beams that guide the craft to the airport runway.

Provision is made for the control device to take control of the plane automatically when the radio picks up the runway localizer radio beam at a distance of six or seven miles from the airport. The plane's control surfaces are automatically set in the gliding position and the craft glides in at a controlled speed.

The difference between this and other blind landing systems is that this substitutes an automatic control hook-up between landing beam receiver and the plane's controls for the instruments that tell the pilot whether he is on or off course. The patent is assigned to the government.

ANTICLIMAX

(From the Des Moines Tribune.) "Out of control, we shot crazily down nine rapids—about five and a half miles—before the boats finally rested in an eddy. I jumped into the water near some rocks, found it deeper than I had planned, and got a good wetting. But I struggled out and finally managed to snub the boats upon some rocks."

"On the last night out, when we camped 20 miles above Lee's ferry and an airplane flew overhead and dropped notes all around us asking if we were all right, we knew we were almost to civilization and decided to celebrate. I made some chocolate fudge."—New Yorker.

The school board met last night in the old Commercial high school and put in several hours considering matters connected with the contracts on the Polytechnic High school buildings and equipment. Several of the contracts were accepted as completed, and City Attorney Heathman was furnished memoranda toward the filing and posting of the jobs as finished and taken over.

The monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company was held at the S. A. V. I. offices in Orange this week. Reports on work done during the past month were presented by Secretary O. E. Mansur.

The Orange County Employment Agency has moved to 408 East Fourth street, where it is said the agency will be better able to serve its patrons.

In a report to the city council last night, Trustee H. Russell Greaves stated that in his opinion the Southern Counties Gas company is giving Monrovia good service at reasonable rates. The report was the result of an investigation started some time ago by the council, regarding the local gas rate.

The mysterious Hittites are not nearly so mysterious as they used to be.

Archaeologists are persistently digging up Hittite cities in Asia Minor and Syria to the north and northwest of Palestine. As a result, Hittites are now classed respectfully with the big powers of antiquity, and their two eras of expansive empire, when they dominated wide regions of the ancient world, are being restored in some detail to pages of history.

One gap in knowledge of Hittite history has been the time between 1650 B. C. and 1400. That was between the two great empire eras, when Hittite kings seem to have lacked the militaristic urge to power.

So, it is a red letter Hittite day when Sir Leonard Woolley, excavating for the British Museum at Atchana, near Antioch in northern Syria, finds a Hittite palace built about 1600 B. C. and burned near 1400.

Whether the era was considered a time of fortunate peace, or one of weak depression, by people in those days, the palace ruins at Atchana suggest that Hittite rulers there lived well and conducted business as usual.

Wrecked by fire though it was, the palace ruins tell an amazing lot to an archaeologist. Sir Leonard identifies suites of rooms with bedroom and bath and points out women's apartments marked by combs, pins, trinkets and toilet boxes in the debris. Other rooms containing little besides clay tablets and wine jars are presumed to belong to scribes—secretaries and clerks of the palace.

In one annex to the palace is a suite of work rooms, bedroom and lavatory, which belonged apparently to the architect, since a room built especially for storing records is near it. Most of the tablets stored here were removed in the fire 3,400 years ago, but elsewhere in the annex offices about 800 clay documents awaited the archaeologists of 1938. These may add to history of the obscure era. (Copyright, 1938, by Science Service)

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Madame Perkins frequently is more optimistic than practical, but there are a few hopeful straws behind her optimism regarding CIO-AFL peace.

First, public response to a harmony talk has been extremely favorable, which is having a telling effect on the rival labor camps.

Second, Miss Perkins has the help of two extremely able union leaders—David Dubinsky, of the International Ladies' Garment Workers, and Daniel Tobin, head of the Teamsters, also an intimate pal of Jim Farley. Dubinsky and Tobin long have been peace advocates.

As a member of the AFL executive council, Tobin tried to prevent a split at the time the CIO leaders wanted peace. A few, although affiliated with the CIO, has not been kicked out by the AFL. He has been working behind the scenes for rapprochement.

Third, despite brilliant exceptions, the fact is that most AFL-CIO leaders want peace. A few irremediable diehards (Matthew Woll of the photo-engravers, Arthur Wharton of the machinists, William Hutchinson of the carpenters) still want a fight to the finish, but the great majority are anxious to make up.

Although both organizations deny it, actually they are in a bad way financially and continued warfare will hurt them.

Another peace factor is that every move made by Miss Perkins so far has been guided by Tobin and Dubinsky. She has conferred with them secretly several times and is in constant touch by telephone. This is important; because without advice, well-intentioned Miss Perkins has a penchant for jumping the rails at crucial moments.

Present Tobin-Dubinsky-Perkins strategy is to continue building up peace sentiment, while quietly preparing the ground for a peace conference by winning individual leaders over to the plan. When a sufficient bloc has been lined up, a public invitation will be issued to the AFL and CIO—possibly by Roosevelt himself—to send down together and talk peace.

SELF-PURGER—Comment of a White House intimant upon reading a press interview in which Sen. Burton C. Wheeler, anti-New Deal leader, declared he "probably would not run for reelection in 1940."

SEX VS. BIBLE—Morris Ernst, forthright New York attorney who bearded Mayor Hague last summer, recently wrote a letter to the president in which he said:

"Under separate cover I am sending you one bible. Should you send this to a spiritually needy friend on the Pacific coast, the postage would cost you 56 cents."

I am also sending you three sex booklets weighing exactly the same amount. Should you send these to a friend on the Pacific coast, the postage would cost you 7 cents."

Ernst was illustrating the discrimination of postage rates against books, as compared to magazines, pamphlets and newspapers. He has been waging a long campaign to persuade the postoffice to lower rates on books, and it looks as if he would succeed. The president is expected shortly to issue an executive order to that effect.

Note—in his letter to Roosevelt, Ernst added: "P.S.: Unless you send word to your outer office, you may not get one half your present."

PARTNERSHIP—Meeting a state department friend, John L. Lewis remarked:

"Considering Winston Churchill's speech and the proposed visit of the king and queen of England, it is possible that we are being cajoled into accepting a class B membership in the British empire."

NEW NAME—CIO master minds are seeking a new name for their organization.

They aren't offering any prizes but they are eager for suggestions. The new name is for the permanent organization to be set up formally at the national convention meeting in Pittsburgh on Nov. 14.

There is one requirement for the new title. The initials must be "C.I.O.," which now stand for "Committee for Industrial Organization."

Already suggested as substitutes are "Confederation of Industrial Organizations" and "Congress of Industrial Organizations."

"Confederation" has been ruled out because it sounds too much like the Civil war.

About The Bills

NO. 15, JUDICIAL COUNCIL

Proposed by the assembly, this is a constitutional amendment providing an increase in the present judicial council from 11 to 15 members. It was first proposed by the state bar. Seven members of the judicial council would be laymen, lawyers and chairmen of the judiciary committees of senate and assembly, in addition to eight judges. It provides the council shall adopt or amend rules of judicial conduct.

Its supporters, including leaders of the bar, say the new plan was approved by more than five-sixths of those voting in the bar poll, and has been recommended by members of the present judicial council after 11 years of experience. They say it would result in no substantial increase in costs, since council members get only expenses.

Opponents say laymen or legislature members should have nothing to say about control of courts, and that their appointment would "violate an American principle" of independent judiciary. They claim the council has no right to set down rules for conduct of judges in their own courtrooms.

ORGAN FOR $5.73—Members of the Methodist Episcopal church in Ashley, Ind., felt the lack of an organ to supply music for their services. But funds were not available.

Now, however, the hymns are sung with more feeling than ever and the doxology has more fervor than it ever had before, for the Rev. R. W. Blanchard's inventive genius has given the worshippers an excellent organ at a total cost of $5.73.

The minister first bought a discarded reed organ for $2. Next he purchased an out-of-date household vacuum cleaner for $3.50. Using a discarded gas tank hose for a hookup he quickly had the musical instrument functioning.

"The dependability and power of the vacuum cleaner keep the organ operating at fullest efficiency," he said. "If cleanliness is next to Godliness," as has been said so often, it must be doubly so here, where this indispensable home appliance now proves its equal usefulness in the church."—Christian Science Monitor.

ELECTRIC RATES

To the Editor: Action should be taken to bring the electric rates in Santa Ana in line with the prevailing rates in California. With competition between cities so keen, a community with tax rates and utility rates higher than those in other sections is burdened with a serious handicap.

The Realty Board recently discovered how far the electric rates in Santa Ana are out of line when its committee secured a survey of electric rates in California made by the federal power commission as of January 1, 1937.

The survey makes a comparison of typical monthly bills for various amounts of current used, which method the survey states, "reduces the diverse types and forms of rate schedules to a common basis in a manner than makes even the most complex rates understandable."

The survey ranked the cities from low to high based on net monthly bills for 25, 100 and 500 kilowatt-hours for residence service. Using the 100 kilowatt-hour bracket as nearer an average and as the survey states it being for "customers having electric refrigeration in addition to lighting and small appliances," the following facts are disclosed about the position of Santa Ana among the cities of California:

Santa Ana has the highest rate in the state in cities of 25,000 and over, the monthly bills ranging from $3.04, $3.19, $3.60 up to $4.90 for Santa Ana.

In cities from 10,000 to 25,000 22 have lower bills than Santa Ana, running as low as $3.04, $3.09 and $3.25, while only five have higher bills and then only slightly higher.

The same situation is found in the smaller cities of from 5,000 to 10,000. Eleven have higher rates, the highest being $5.05 while 42 have lower bills than Santa Ana, running as low as $3.39 and $3.09.

Taking all cities in the state from 1000 up, the survey shows that the great majority enjoy lower rates than Santa Ana.

Some cities are served by privately owned utilities as low as $3.09 as compared to $4.90 in Santa Ana.

A utility should be permitted to make a profit and a fair return on the present value of its investment, but it is evident that something is wrong in a setup that is penalizing Santa Ana so heavily.

What Other Editors Say

LABOR RIGHTS ENDANGERED—Organized labor in California is alarmed—and has every reason to be—over the possibility that voters of that state will approve an initiative measure placed on the November 2 election ballot by business and farm interests.

Should this measure become law it would be difficult, if not impossible, for workers to strike effectively against employers who refuse to recognize unions or to bargain collectively. Other rights now enjoyed by labor would be drastically curtailed. Labor leaders contend that the very existence of labor unions in California is threatened.

We regret that such a measure should be offered in any state. We don't want to see labor gagged and tied by restrictive legislation. But we think there can be no doubt that organized labor in California, especially in the San Francisco and Los Angeles areas, has done much to bring this drastic proposal to the point where many observers predict its adoption.—New York World Telegram.

MIRAGE SIGHTED—Old age pensioners in Sacramento are serving advance notice on county welfare agents that if the Thirty Thursday Ham & Eggs scheme is voted at the November election, they prefer to keep on getting the $35 cash pension provided for the needy aged in California.

The aged who are getting the pensions realize that the scheme is a mirage. They have faced the terrors of insecurity and at last have found security. They have learned the difference between cash and pieces of paper. In this they show common sense that might be envied by a great many who until now have been able to get along without pensions.—S. F. Chronicle.

SIMILE—The audience was as numerous as shrinking violets in Hollywood.—L. C.

Philosophy

This is the story of a woman who unselfishly helped others without thought of getting paid for it—and became famous around the world.

Her name is Mrs. Mason Carter. She is the founder of the Hollywood Bowl.

She was thrilled by music. It was the loveliest thing in the world, and she wanted to have it.

Right here is the difference between average person. She did something average person. She did something about it! When she went home for her vacation, she rented the town theater and got a group of musicians to agree to come and play classical music. The people were dumbfounded. What! A girl hiring a theater and getting musicians from 100 miles away to come and play!

She started in to sell tickets. From door to door she went. No one on the streets was safe from her appeal. She sold the tickets. The concert was a success.

She married and moved to Westport, in my old home state of Missouri. She wanted the people there to have music. She had the only grand piano in town, and she invited the people to see it and hear it. Farmers hitched their horses to the fence in front of the house and stood with their hats in their hands to "hear the dargest thing wot."

No one in the town had ever heard a pipe organ. She got the church interested, and started in to raise money. Before they knew it, the town owned a pipe organ.

She went to Los Angeles and discovered a natural cup in the hills of Hollywood. An ideal place for concerts. Outdoor concerts, "Symphonies under the stars," she said.

It would cost $10,000. She didn't have any money, but she started in. And the Hollywood Bowl became a reality.

It was just getting well under way when a crisis arose. The streets were torn up and cars could not get near. The Bowl would go broke! The steam shovel must leave the street untouched. She rushed to the mayor, the city council, the board of supervisors, the board of public works. No one did anything.

That is, no one but Artie Mason Carter. She went to the workmen on the street and pleaded her cause. They laughed. It was but a few minutes before time to start the steam shovel. As they started it, she threw herself before it and shut her eyes. Closer and closer it came, roaring and thundering. Then it stopped.

"I won't run over no woman," the engineer said, and discontinued his work.

The papers had front page stories. The Bowl was saved. Artie Mason Carter will help others for generations to come. Isn't it worth while? Think of it some night as you sit in that wonderful amphitheater listening to divine music coming seemingly from the stars. What can you do to bring beauty and happiness into other lives?

I'LL TELL YOU....

BY BOB BURNS

I may be wrong, but it always seemed to me like my folks are jest a little closer together than other people. Maybe it's because they were always so poor. It looks like the poorer a couple is, the more they understand each other.

I was talkin' to a wealthy heiress out here not long ago who had married a foreign nobleman. Neither one of 'em could speak a word of the other one's language. When I asked her how in the world they could understand each other well enough to want to get married, she said, "Oh, that was easy—we had a perfect understanding. He showed me his family tree and I showed him my bank books."
